Japs Bomb U. S. School, Oil Tanks

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—The American government protested to the Japanese consul-general at Hong Kong today against the bombing by Japanese airplanes of the campus of the American-endowed Lingnan University at Canton.

CANTON, June 8 (INS)—Japanese planes dropped bombs on the grounds of an American university in the Canton area today as another aerial attack on this southern Chinese metropolis brought casualties close to 10,000.

Three bombs landed in the compound of Lingnam University on nearby Honam Island. The university staff consists of 31 Americans, three Britons and one German.

One of the bombs embedded itself in a pathway and failed to explode. The others exploded, however, shaking the buildings and killing a Chinese woman.

Several foreign women members of the university staff suffered shock as a result of the blasts.

Other bombs struck Standard Oil Company tanks, starting a huge fire.

Authorities here could give no explanation for the bombing of the university. They pointed out that the nearest military objective was an anti-aircraft battery a mile and a half away.

Few political faces will be seen among the guests when Miss Anne Clark and John Aspinwall Roosevelt, son of the President, are married June 18 at Nahant, it was revealed today.

Among the absentees will be Governor Charles F. Hurley and former Governor James M. Curley, as well as a host of other political figures who have been close to the Roosevelt family in the past.

Hurley, Curley and other state officials, past and present, have not been invited—and will not be invited—it is explained, because the wedding is not an official affair.

The complete list of those to whom invitations have been sent for the wedding and the reception will be made public next Saturday, it was said today.

The young couple spent the day in Boston on a shopping tour which ended with lunch at the Ritz Carlton.

Anne was clad in a blue polka-dot dress, reefer coat of the same color and wore a string of pearls. She hahd wide brimmed blue straw hat, beneath which was a cluster of gardenias. Young Roosevelt wore a grey lounge suit.

MOTHER EXPLAINS

Mrs. F. Haven Clark, mother of the bride-to-be, explained today about the invitations.

"This wedding is not an official affair," she said. "It will be a small wedding and invitations have been sent only to our intimate friends.

"It is true that Governor Hurley and former Governor Curley have not been invited to the wedding, and they will not be.

"But this is my explanation

Mother Dies As Bishop Flies Here

Mrs. Margaret Shaughnessey, 81-year-old mother of the Bishop of Seattle, died suddenly in her home at Milford today as her son winged his way through cloudy, rain-swept skies in a vain race with death.

On the occasion of her golden wedding anniversary in 1934, Mrs. Shaughnessey received a telegram from Pope Pius and the congratulations of over 1000 prominent clergymen and lay persons. Her son, Rt. Rev. Gerald Shaughnessey, celebrated mass for his parents.

She is survived by her husband Joseph and two other sons, Arthur F., of New York, and Joseph B., of Milford. Funeral arrangements have been held up pending the arrival of the bishop.

Canton U. S. College Bombed

City in Flames

CANTON, China, June 8 (AP)—A big fire burned furiously tonight after Japanese warplanes in their third raid of the day dropped incendiary bombs on this city, where the air raid toll since May 28 was conservatively estimated at 3000 dead and 5000 wounded.

Two American-owned properties, Lingnam University and a Standard Oil storage plant, were struck by bombs in two earlier raids today.

The United States consulate-general here was understood to have protested to the Japanese consul-general at Hongkong against the bombing of Lingnam, principal Christian institution of higher education in the South China district.

It was the twelfth successive day of air attacks on Canton or its environs.

BOMBS START BLAZE

The bombs started a big fire within 400 yards of Shameen, Canton's International settlement.

The Standard Oil tanks hit in one of the two daylight raids burst into flame, spreading fires which destroyed the terminal of the Canton-Hankow railway and a 16-car train just arrived from Hankow, China's provisional capital.

At least 300 new civilian casualties were inflicted on Honam Island, an industrial district. Several Japanese bombs, apparently aimed at the Pearl river bridge, exploded in Honam's congested areas, demolishing about 100 houses.

It was estimated 500,000 inhabitants of this war-crowded city of about 1,000,000 had fled.

HOSPITALS CRIPPLED

Many bodies were buried in debris of wrecked buildings, with rescue squads unable to keep pace with the destruction.

A direct hit on Canton's power station cut off electric power, disabling the city's air alarm system and crippling hospital services.

Police dashed from house to house ringing doorbells to warn inhabitants as the Japanese planes came over, first before daybreak and later in mid-morning.

Japanese planes also raided Foochow, about 600 miles north of Canton, today, but only dropped leaflets urging revolt against Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

'Abolish Bomber' Von Wiegand's Plea on War

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
(Dean of American War Correspondents)

Copyright, 1938, by International News Service

PARIS, June 8—The crash of bombs from the skies of China and Spain have focussed the world's attention sharply on the fact that modern strategists have adopted the principle:

"Sovereign peoples, not armies and navies, conduct the wars of today."

Air experts argue:

"Large cities are centers of sovereign peoples. Therefore, the will power of a nation to resist, not the strength of its armies and fleets, must be broken and that is the main objective of the air bomber."

The events in China and Spain are demonstrating that the world is confronted today with its greatest moral battle. It may be forced to draw a line, limiting the barbarities of war, in order to prevent the possible destruction of the civilization of Europe before another major conflict comes.

But while the democracies of America, Britain and France are raising their voices in solemn protest, it might be well to look into the plans of their own general air force staffs to see how far they, too, have adopted the principles of extremist air strategists.

It might be well to ascertain whether they, too, adhere to the doctrine that "in modern war the army and the people are one and indivisible in conception and in space," as the German Major Lothar Schuettel puts it in his new work, "Air War Threatens Europe."

Britain May Act

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, June 8—Britain's government is planning vigorous representations to Rome and Berlin against the bombing of British ships in Spanish waters, International News Service was informed today.

This action may be taken as a result of an assertion by the Duke of Alba, General Franco's representative in London, that Franco is not responsible for and cannot control the activities of Italian and German planes operating in the Spanish civil war.

Britain, it was learned, now is convinced the attacks on her ships in Spanish government ports are deliberate, and represent an effort by the Insurgent air forces to enforce a blockade by means of aerial warfare.

WEIGH CONFISCATION

Meanwhile, the British government also is seriously considering confiscation of Insurgent ships, as well as extension of the Nyon aerial patrol to the Balearic islands, where an active Insurgent air force is based.

A special meeting of the British cabinet is expected before the weekend to deal with the grave situation arising from the insurgent aerial attacks on British ships.

Gravity of the situation was intensified by attacks on three British ships yesterday in Insurgent aid raids on Valencia and Alicante.

11 SHIPS ATTACKED

Eleven British ships have been either damaged or sunk and several crew members killed or injured during air raids in the past few weeks.

Uneasiness regarding flights of planes from Spain over French territory was increased by fears that a critical situation might arise should it develop the planes responsible for these alleged incursions were under Italian or German control.

Lone Plane Bombs British Spain Port

GANDIA, Spain, June 8 (AP)—A lone seaplane bombed and machine-gunned this British-operated port on Government Spain's Mediterranean coast in a moonlight raid today, damaging a British dredge so seriously that she sank.

The plane, believed to be the same one which bombed two British ships in Alicante harbor yesterday, dropped about 30 bombs, five of them hitting the dredger.

Town Bombed Near French Border

PIERPIGNAN, France, June 8 (INS)—Again approaching the French frontier, insurgent planes today heavily bombed the town of Figueras.

Fifty persons were killed and 100 wounded as the rain of bombs destroyed 40 houses.

Hiroto Insists 'Japan Ready To Talk Peace'

Special to Boston Evening American

WASHINGTON, June 8 — "Japan is ready to discuss peace with China at any time, if China asks for peace."

This was the comment made today by Mr. Hiroto Saito, the Japanese ambassador, on the recent dispatch from Paris to the Hearst newspapers, by Karl H. Von Wiegand, dean of American war correspondents, outlining a realistic peace plan.

The ambassador added with that inscrutable caution of diplomatic language for which he has become noted:

"I do not think that outside intervention would be of any avail.

"Any outside influence would have to persuade China to accept terms already laid down by Japan, our aim being the establishment of peace and order in the Far East on a lasting basis.

"That basis is as follows:

"1—Discontinuance of the anti-Japanese and pro-Communistic movement in China.

"Japan has no territorial ambitions in China.

"3—Japan desires economic co-operation on a basis of the open door.

"4—China to pay indemnity."

Romance at the Races:

A Vanderbilt Takes a Bride

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, 25, heir to a $20,000,000 fortune and one of America's most enthusiastic turfmen, was married today to Manuela Hudson, also 25, auburn-haired daughter of a San Francisco lawyer.

The ceremony, culmination of a romance that began at Santa Anita Park last winter and continued through the meets at Pimlico and Belmont tracks, took place at the Sands Point, Long Island, estate of Mrs. Margaret Emerson, mother of the Vanderbilt heir.

The Rev. Vincent A. McCarthy of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Manhasset, Long Island, performed the ceremony.

An altar, decorated with white iris and delphinium, was set up in the library. The priest was unassisted.

BRIDE WEARS PINK

The bride, who wore a dusty pink ensemble and no veil, was given away by her brother, Lula Hudson. The bride's attendant was her sister, Mrs. Charles Fairbanks, Jr., of Pasadena, Cal.

The groom's best man was Harry A Parr, 3rd, of Baltimore. Mrs. Emerson was present.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fairbanks, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Howard, who own Sea Biscuit; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Parr, Horace Kelland, son of the novelist, Clarence Budington Kelland; Miss Dolly De Milhau, J. H. New Bridal Home For Vanderbilts

BALTIMORE, June 8 (AP)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt—one of America's "most eligible bachelors"—until today—will bring his bride to a new home in Maryland's exclusive Worthington Valley.

The home, now under construction, is near the Sagamore farm, where Vanderbilt's racing thoroughbreds train. A swimming pool will be constructed nearby.

Aid Dog But Let Me Die

Asking that his dog, "my best friend," be taken care of, an alleged counterfeit passer pleaded today in federal court that he be allowed to swallow a poison pill and save the government expense in trying him.

"I've had lots of trouble," Joseph Alberto, 45, of Tufts st., Everett, told U. S. Commissioner Harry N. Guterman.

"I've got a cancer of the stomach. I've run over a child, I chased an automobile and was run over. I don't care what happens to me. Why should I continue living?

"I'll save the government a lot of trouble by taking just one pill. I want you to take care of my dog, my best friend, when I kill myself.

"All I want is to have you take care of my dog if you let me die. Nobody cares for me."

Alberto, who says he has a wife and children in Florence, Italy, was told by Commissioner Guterman that the government does not wish Alberto to kill himself and the dog will be cared for.

The defendant is charged with passing three counterfeit $10 bills and the case was continued for a week, Alberto being held—alive—in bail of $2500.

Foil Suicide In Jail Cell

WORCESTER, June 8—George Smith, 21, of Second street, held in $16,000 bail after turning state's evidence in court last Monday, attempted suicide in his cell, police said.

Smith sliced his arm with a razor blade. Dr. Joseph E. Lemire, who saved Smith, said his condition was "fair." A suicide guard was placed over his cell.

Smith had been charged with three holdups in court, but tried to save himself by implicating Tony Santello, ex-boxer, who was charged with receiving stolen goods. Santello is held in $1000.

Bodies of Young Pair Found in Ct. Lake

ROCKVILLE, Ct., June 8 (INS)—Inseparable in life during their courtship of more than a year, Miss Alice Rosenberg, 19, of Rockville, and her sweetheart, Henry Aborn, 22, of nearby Tolland, Mass., were joined in death today in what police believed was a suicide pact.

The bodies of the lovers were found in shallow water in Snipsic lake by William Aborn, brother of one of the victims.

The couple attended church together Sunday and took communion at the First Lutheran church, it was reported.

Later, police said, Alice wrote a letter to a girl friend in Providence, in which she said she and Henry were "going to their heavenly home."

Police said the letter read in part:

"When you receive this letter it will be the last one you will ever receive from me and believe me. Henry and I will be in a very happy state. We are going to our heavenly home.

"I leave loads of love. Don't grieve for us for we are very happy."

Parents of the victims were at loss to explain the deaths. Both had approved the companionship of the couple.

Reds Seek U. S. Dictatorship

Aim to Use War of Religions as Means to This End

(This is the fourth of a series of articles revealing the Communists' plan to bring about strife between religious sects in the United States.)

By JOHN BRADFORD MAIN
Boston Evening American Staff Writer

The Communists seek to tear down the churches and to impose upon America such a dictatorship as "has not been envisaged since the Caesars conquered the known world."

That is the finding of the special commission that has been investigating Communism and other 'isms in Massachusetts.

"While Roman legions invaded with arms and conquered by might," the commission's report declares, "the Third International invades with propaganda to set American against American, so that at an opportune moment the Communists may seize control of the warring factions."

It is in furtherance of this scheme that the Communists have been "boring from within" the churches.

Failing to stir up the "class war" they talk so much about, the Reds now seek to stir up a religious war by fomenting racial and religious prejudices and dissensions among the churches instead.

"Incongruous," says the 'isms' commission's report, "as may seem a collaboration between the Communist party and religious groups, none the less it is an accomplished fact.

"By the newer tactic of a 'united front' with socialist and liberal groups, and by denial, the Communists have been able to penetrate some church groups and church organizations and enlist them as co-workers for 'peace' and 'anti-fascism' and in campaigns on social and political problems."

'Red Hand' Dooms Russian Church

'NEWER TACTICS'

At the same time, while thus "cooperating" with the churches, the Reds attack and vilify everything the churches stand for and that churchgoers hold sacred.

At a recent showing in Symphony Hall of the Soviet film, "The Beauty and the Bolshevik," largely attended by children, leaflets were circulated containing a doggerel meant to be sung to the tune of "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Despite this damning evidence (copies of the leaflet were obtained by the commission), Philip Frankfeld, local No. 1 Communist, insisted to the 'isms commission with a decidedly straight face:

"Often we have been charged with being anti-religious, and have been accused of attacking religion. This is part of a campaign of misrepresentation against us . . . We are accused of distributing circulars attacking religion . . . We never have and never will issue any leaflets against religion."

EVASION CHARGED

Of Frankfeld, the report states:

"In the case of Frankfeld, as in the case of every Communist witness before the Commission, there were advanced few, if indeed any, complete items of factual data.

"Evidence was fragmentary. There was evasion . . .

"There was deliberate falsification of material facts . . ."

The report of the commission contains a complete survey of the history of the Communist movement in Massachusetts.

The report places the Red drive to "bore from within" the churches as beginning about 1924.

"In 1924," the report states, "Communist papers and pamphlets circulated among the foreign-born followed the Marx and Lenin line of enmity toward religion.

WOO CHURCH GROUPS

"Several years later the party was to practice the tactic of wooing church groups by protesting that the true Soviet attitude on religious toleration had been perverted by capitalistic enemies.

"Mostly printed in Moscow, there were distributed (here) thousands of atheistic cartoons and writings, foreign-speaking people being the chief recipients."

Indicative of the true Communist attitude towards the Jews were some of these cartoons, described by the "isms" commission report as follows:

"Five rabbis, cartooned into bestial resemblance, brandishing swords and led by a fiery Jehovah, appeared in determined assault on the headquarters of the Communist Internationale.

"Characters of the Old Testament were given comic-strip treatment."

The "united front" tactic of using "peace" as a common purpose has been the Reds' principal entering wedge in "boring from within" the churches, the report reveals.

NEW GAINS CITED

"The year 1937," the report states, "has found the 'united front' moving towards greater success. The Communist Party has built its fringe organizations and its affiliated organizations into thousands of members . . .

"Strength among, and concealed leadership in, certain basic industrial unions have placed the Communists nearer to controlling positions among masses of unsuspecting workers . . .

"Where formerly intellectuals, true liberals, members of the Socialist Party and American workingmen were alienated by fanatic rabble-rousing, the newer methods of stimulating class warfare, and the Communists' hypocritical promises of social change by constitutional methods, won both employed and unemployed who seek correction of existing ills."

REVOLUTION IS GOAL

As to these "hypocritical promises of social change by constitutional methods," the report points out that this is so much "eye wash" to persuade the gullible. The Communists plan Red revolution in America, the report charges.

Quoted is the "Program of the Communist International," which says:

". . . Stuart Chase says 'The American problem is to "plan" without revolution.' But this will not work; it is a case of the whole Soviet Book or nothing."

Another article on Communist "boring from within" to create religious dissension and hatreds in America will be published in the Boston Evening American tomorrow.

Dr. Walsh Calls Browder Plea 'Trojan Horse'

DETROIT, June 8 (INS)—Earl Browder's invitation to Catholics to join Communists in a battle for Social Justice was termed a "Trojan Horse" gift by Dr. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., Georgetown University vice-president.

Dr. Walsh, speaking to 249 University of Detroit graduating seniors, charged Browder, secretary of the Communist party in America and Communist candidate for President in 1936, "would embrace us the better to choke us."

REV. FR. EDMUND WALSH

Dr. Walsh said the new Communist tactics were designed to win the favor of Catholics to enable the Communist minority to control a vast voting strength in America.

The "United Front" invitation was issued by Browder at the New York Communist convention.

"The defensive, obscene and gross approach of the past was to be gently discarded," Dr. Walsh said, "and a more subtle approach to the enemy's camp adopted—even as the Greeks employed a gift in the shape of a Trojan horse to break the battlements of ancient Ilion.

"The final objectives—overthrow of the American democracy in favor of a minority dictatorship of one class, and the gradual abolition of all religious belief—are to remain unchanged, but masked behind copious olive branches heaped like a perfumed camouflage before the implacable visages of the concealed shock troops."

Healey to Aid In Alien Probe

WASHINGTON, June 8 (INS)—Representative Dies (D.) of Texas announced the seven-man House committee appointed to investigate un-American activities in the United States, which he will head, will meet Friday to map plans to launch its probe immediately into all subversive and espionage movements seeking to undermine this government.

Speaker Bankhead named five Democrats and two Republicans to the committee. Besides Dies, who authorized the resolution creating the committee, the group will include:

Representatives Healey, Massachusetts; Dempsey, New Mexico; Starnes, Alabama; Moser, Ohio, Democrats, and Thomas, New Jersey, and Mason, Illinois, Republicans.

The House accounts committee recommended a $25,000 appropriation for the investigation. It will be acted upon today.

Troops for Hire Probers Told

sharp retort from Senator Holmes.

"The report stands," she said. "It seems to me ludicrous for these 50 persons to have called 'prejudiced' a document they probably haven't even read. It would be well to wait and read it all."

The statutes proposed by the commission, in a report which rocked the state, were subject of consideration at the hearing.

Real purpose of the Communist organization in Massachusetts, as elsewhere, is overthrow of state and federal government by force, several members of Senator Holmes' commission testified.

Among these members called as witnesses were James P. Rose, former state commander of the American Legion; Senator Thomas H. Burke and Representative Anthony Julian.

REVOLT PLOTTED

They asserted that their investigations convinced them that armed "revolution" was plotted by subversive "Red" groups within the Commonwealth.

Witnesses associated with these groups were "evasive" and "rebellious," commission members said.

Senator Holmes, in her testimony concerning the Springfield "shock troops for hire," asserted that the armed Springfield group had a membership of 75 in its "First Company" and had 40 recruits qualifying for membership.

Funds for expenses of drills, ammunition and other disbursements of the group have been raised by dances and by membership fees of $3 per man, she said.

Referring to the proposed statute which would compel registration of persons using names other than their own, Senator Holmes said:

"The Communist party is a conspiring body and its members take orders from a foreign power. Members use other names to conceal their identities.

SOLICIT FUNDS

"Various groups spring up over night, take a name that attracts attention of those desiring fair play, then publicly solicit funds.

"I challenge you, for instance, to find out who is in charge of collecting funds to aid Spanish loyalists, how much is collected and where the money goes."

A sweeping program to check effectively the inroads of radical groups was under consideration of the committee on legal affairs. All persons, who might shed light on the activities of these groups, were to be heard by the committee.

ALWAYS COMMUNIST

In legal phraseology, the recommendations of the commission are restriction of arms-bearing by private organizations; prohibition of the libelling of races; registrations of persons using other than their true names; and a ban on the use of force to effect political or economic changes.

Actually, the recommendations are aimed at a persistent underground campaign by Communists, details of which were revealed by the commission in a 1500-page report, to cause a revolution in this country.

The commission's recommendations were endorsed today by Witness Walter Kürching, representing German war veterans.

"But Massachusetts should go further," he said, in "outlawing the Communist party."

"Before Fascism and Nazism," he said, "you will find there was always Communism in the dictatorship countries."

Communist witnesses, in their turn, denied subversive activities in Massachusetts.

Phillip Frankfeld, Communist party secretary, and Otis Hood, a Communist organizer, were among those, who were questioned.

DENY CHARGE

Edward Edsell, organizer for the United Office and Professional Workers' Union, a CIO affiliate, denied that the Committee for Industrial Organization is Communist-controlled, as charged by the investigating commission.

He opposed the proposed statute which would penalize persons advocating use of violence in accomplishing political or economic changes.

This statute, Edsell said, might be made a weapon against labor unions.

Fearful of the yearly casualties from fireworks, the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary today issued a warning to parents to exercise constant vigilance over their children over the celebration period from June 17 to July 4.

Mail Thief?

Or Chicken Robber

NORWICH, Ct., June 8 (INS)—A dozen state policemen patrolled highways in the vicinity of Norwich today in search of a "mail robber," who was believed to have stolen several sacks of mail from a state of Maine express train here.

However, according to Chief of Police Thomas Murphy, the joke is on the state troopers for at most the thief is a chicken thief and not a mail robber.

It appeared that a man met the train when it pulled into the station and when he disappeared it was at first reported several mail bags and a carton of 100 baby chicks were missing.

According to Chief Murphy, however, no mail was taken.

Taxicab Bandits Hunted by Police

Two armed men, who twice robbed drivers of cash and taxicabs, were sought by police in Charlestown and the North End today.

Herbert Robery of Roxbury was robbed of $4.60 and his cab taken on Rutherford avenue, Charlestown.

Later, William DiGuisseppe of Dorchester was robbed of $4 in the North End. The taxicabs of both drivers were recovered.

WPA Pay Cut Fight Spurred By Protests

CIO and other groups opposing proposed wage cuts for white collar workers in WPA projects today prepared official protest to be forwarded to Washington through Col. John J. McDonough, local WPA administrator.

Their action followed a protest demonstration staged yesterday at WPA headquarters on Washington street and the sending of a wire supporting their cause to Federal Administrator Harry L. Hopkins by Governor Hurley.

Representatives of the National Maritime Union, other CIO affiliates and the Workers' Alliance staged the demonstration. While they picketed the WPA building, other groups conferred for almost three hours with Colonel McDonough.

A letter from Ellen S. Woodward, assistant administrator of the white collar projects at Washington, in answer to a letter written by a local WPA group, was read to Colonel McDonough.

$5000 Harvard Threat Hoax

Cambridge police, the Yard police and the Harvard student were pretty much stirred up about it at first when a threat letter was received by the student from "Rev. the Clutch."

They were merely angry when it turned out that the whole thing was a hoax, engineered by fellow students against a lad who had been partaking of boisterous waters, according to the Harvard Crimson, when he met a girl named Beverly in a Boston dance hall.

The supposed threat note contained the picture of a disrobed girl reposing on a beach, and the note said:

"Remember the Riviera, or was it Revere? Five thousand dollars—OR ELSE."

Still confused, but still determined to crush down any blackmail, the student turned the note and picture over to Colonel Charles B. Apted, head of the Yard police.

He conferred with Police Chief Timothy Leahy of Cambridge.

The hoaxing students stepped in with a confession just in time to prevent the victim from long-distance telephoning his father

Sea Hero's Widow Begs President to Save Home

NEW YORK, June 8 (INS)—The widow of an American naval hero today appealed to President Roosevelt to save her home from the auction block where the Home Owners Loan Corporation says it must go on June 30.

In 1934, a telegram from Mrs. Sadie Leslie Monssen, widow of Lieutenant Mons. Monssen, hero of the battleship Missouri fire which endangered the lives of 600 in 1904, sped to the President asking his aid in securing a HOLC mortgage.

The President slashed through red tape and the mortgage was quickly arranged.

Today, Mrs. Monssen sent this appeal to the President through International News Service:

"Dear Mr. President:

"In 1934 you helped me to get a Home Owners' Loan Corporation mortgage. Today I am appealing to you again.

"I have offered to pay $35 a month—all that I can afford—but the HOLC insists that I must pay $60 a month. Today I face eviction.

"I do not know of anyone else to whom I can turn.

"I hopefully await your answer.

"Respectfully yours,

"(Mrs.) Sadie Leslie Monssen."

RADIO MEN ELECT WELLS

Hub-Cohasset Chase Traps 2

Boston police chased a Dorchester car at an 80-mile-an-hour clip today for nearly 30 miles and won the race at Cohasset.

Officers William N. Keenan and Terrence A. Koen in a cruiser spotted the car on Freeport street, Metropolitan, Quincy and Weymouth police received radio flashes and patrolled the roads.

Patrolmen John Winters and Earl McArthur of Cohasset helped force the speedsters to the curb.

Two youths in the car, one from Roxbury and the other from West Medford, were brought back to Boston for questioning.

Ex-Washington Police Head Sees Dictator by '40

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 8 (INS)—There will be no presidential election in 1940.

Instead there will be a dictatorship, because "President Roosevelt is not eager to abdicate the throne."

These predictions were made on a ranch near here today by Brigadier General Pelham D. Glassford, U. S. A., who gained recognition as police chief in Washington, D. C., at the time of the celebrated bonus march on the Capitol.

"Because Farleyites are building politics with the exploitation of misery, there will be no presidential election in 1940," General Glassford, now an Arizona rancher, said.

"But I don't know that a dictatorship would not be preferable to the tyranny of Farley and his satellites.

"Such a dictatorship would probably not exceed the authority of the Administration during the World War, but Wilson then was as powerful as Mussolini is today.

"But such a dictatorship in America, if it comes, will not last.

"Americans are too indoctrinated with the advantages of freedom."

Belching Crater Terrifies Natives

MANILA, June 8 (AP)—Authorities tried vainly today to calm thousands of terrified natives within sight of belching Mayon volcano, whose periodic eruptions frightened one man to death and drove another insane.

People in the region near the southern tip of Luzon island became more excited hourly as the volcano rumbled almost continuously and erupted at intervals of about three hours.

Panic spread when the volcano blew off this afternoon, throwing up a great pillar of smoke and vapor and hurling vast quantities of incandescent rock into the sky.

Many Jobs, Loses Only One That Pays

TACOMA, Wash., June 8 (AP)—Kenneth Simmons, who is a state representative, mayor of Milton, chief of its fire department and head of its police, protested to Pierce County commissioners today because he was stricken from the WPA rolls.

He said it was the only one of his many jobs that paid any wages.

Triplets' Dad Gets Job Back

There was no happier person in Boston today than Joe Riggillo, for in addition to being the proud father of triplets, he had his WPA painter's job back again.

The triplets arrived the day after he lost his job at the Army Base, but today Joe received notice he had been assigned to another project with full quota of hours and wages for the month.

Deal Struggles For Iowa Unity

WASHINGTON, June 8 (INS)—The smashing victory of Senator Guy M. Gillette in Iowa's Democratic senatorial primary, plus an apparent 90,000 Republican plurality in the election, today drew prompt overtures from the Democratic high command for restoration of party peace in the Tall Corn State.

The outcome was hailed here by Republicans as a farm belt repudiation of the New Deal and by independent Democrats as a stinging rebuke to the "inner circle" of presidential advisers, who have intervened in several primary fights.

President Roosevelt greeted the Iowa returns as a good carrying out of a good party system of government. He added he had sent no congratulatory message to Gillette, because he expected the senator to be back in Washington for a call at the White House today.

MOVE FOR PEACE

Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, who launched a storm of protest by endorsing Gillette's opponent, Rep. Otha D. Wearin, joined with Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley and Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, an Iowan, in congratulating Gillette.

The administration leaders moved so swiftly toward peace in Iowa, it appeared they were worried over the political future in that state.

Farley extended the full support of his committee to Gillette, just after an interview with the President. Wallace issued a plea to all Democrats to support Gillette in November.

Hopkins, while expressing hope Gillette will be reelected, said:

"The Iowa primary shows that the repeated reminders I gave to WPA workers that they were to vote as they pleased were not disregarded as some predicted they would be."

The President, at his press conference, called special attention to this statement by Hopkins.

G.O.P. JUBILANT

Republican spokesmen, while agreeing with independent Democrats that the "inner circle" of Presidential brain-trusters had been rebuked by Gillette's victory, gleefully called attention to the apparent 90,000 G.O.P. plurality in Iowa. They insisted this was a farm belt repudiation of the New Deal.

G.O.P. National Chairman John Hamilton, Senate Republican Leader McNary and House G.O.P. Whip Martin led others in predicting sweeping Republican success in the Fall.

Iowa Democrats Pin Hopes on Gillette

DES MOINES, Ia., June 8 (AP)—State Democratic Party leaders today looked to Senator Guy M. Gillette to smooth out the rough spots which might endanger the success of him and all elective state officers in the fall election.

The victor said repercussions from the primary campaign formed "no occasion for personal resentment against any person," but added the results would give "that Left Wing group, which started out to control the (Presidential) party nomination in 1940, a very great incentive to stop and think things over."

Clerk Gets Taste Of Paying in Court

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., June 8 (AP)—Municipal court clerk Fred C. Dines was on the paying instead of the receiving end today.

He pleaded guilty to overtime parking and handed Judge Gibson a $2 fine and costs of $1.

James Roosevelt Hails Gillette

WASHINGTON, June 8—James Roosevelt, son of the President and among those New Dealers who supported Representative Otha D. Wearin in the Iowa senatorial primary, today wired his congratulations to Senator Guy M. Gillette, victor over Wearin.

"May I send you my sincerest congratulations on your victory," the wire read, "and express earnest hope that all will unite to bring you another overwhelming victory in November."

Seized as Trunk Killer, Confesses

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 8 (INS)—Wanted here for the trunk murder of Mrs. Laura Krenrich, Larry Gough, an unemployed waiter, was picked up in Paducah, Ky., today and confessed the slaying, according to word received by Syracuse police from police of the Kentucky city.

Gough, originally from Kentucky, was recognized by a former friend as he stood on a downtown business corner in Paducah. The friend communicated with police who hurried to the spot and found Gough still there.

He readily admitted his identity and later in a statement to Police Chief W. A. Bryant is claimed to have admitted that he killed Mrs. Krenrich, in whose house he had been living in Syracuse, with a piece of iron pipe.

10 Senators Demand Probe OF WPA-Politics

WASHINGTON, June 8 (INS)—Backed by 10 Democrats, a resolution to create a special committee to investigate charges of political use of relief funds was placed before the Senate today.

Introduced by Senator Tydings (D.) of Maryland and signed by nine of his colleagues, the resolution would empower Vice-President Garner to appoint a Senate committee of three for the investigation.

The committee would receive $10,000 for the inquiry, and be empowered to meet during the summer and subpoena government records and witnesses.

Introduction of the resolution followed close on the heels of failure of three attempts in the Senate to write into the huge relief bill provisions against use of the funds for "political purposes."

Those who signed the resolution in addition to Tydings were McAdoo of California, George of Georgia, Burke of Nebraska, King of Utah, Adams of Colorado, Bulkley of Ohio, Wagner of New York, Hatch of New Mexico, and Gerry of Rhode Island.

Under the resolution the committee would be instructed to report to the Senate "as soon as practicable" recommendations for legislation designed to bulwark relief funds against use for political purposes.

Old Age Benefits Not Taxable

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—The Internal Revenue Bureau ruled today that payments of old age benefits by the Social Security Board to persons reaching the age of 65 are not subject to income taxes.

At the present time persons reaching 65, are given lump sum settlements equal to 3½ per cent of the amount of wages they received from January 1, 1937, until their 65th birthday. Starting in 1942, monthly payments will be substituted.

Farley Acts In Rift Here

In an effort to heal the breach between the two factions of Massachusetts Young Democrats, Postmaster-General James A. Farley will address both groups in the near future, it was learned today.

The Young Democrats of the state have been split since their convention in Cambridge last summer and each faction has elected its own officers.

Through a conference arranged by Chairman Joseph McGrath of the Democratic state committee, the warring factions have agreed on a temporary truce during arrangements for the Farley dinner and reception.

SON JIM ON JOB

Also working toward possible establishment of harmonious relations is James Roosevelt, eldest son of President Roosevelt.

Tonight, for the first time since the split, officials of the two groups will meet at the Hotel Bellevue to discuss plans for the reception and dinner. State Chairman McGrath will hold the thin reins of discipline over tonight's meeting and will address the Young Democrats' representatives informally.

He is expected to impress upon them, however, the necessity for reuniting for the good of the Democratic party.

BORN, HANLY HEADS

Donald Born of Cambridge heads one faction of the Young Democrats while William Hanify of Swampscott, associated with the State Racing Commission, heads the other.

A letter to members of the executive council and present and past presidents of the Young Democrats has been sent out by the secretary, Kathryn V. Shine, inviting participation at tonight's meeting.

FIREMAN INJURED

David Saunders, Somerville fireman, received cuts and bruises when he was struck by a passing automobile while fighting a dump-yard blaze.

He'll Salute Tomorrow, All Right

By the time Charles McCullough, 20, of Goldwaite street, Lynn, got out of Quincy he must have been pretty well sick of today.

Before Judge Kenneth Nash in Quincy court, he was fined $10 for taking short or seed clams from Wollaston Beach and was given two weeks to pay.

Fifteen minutes later, McCullough was stopped by a Metropolitan officer for driving his truck in Wollaston boulevard, a forbidden area. Then the officer discovered McCullough was driving on an expired license.

Back in court another 15 minutes afterward, he was fined another $10 for driving without a license. He was given a month to pay.

This time McCullough walked away from the courthouse, leaving his truck to be driven home from the boulevard by a friend.

255 Graduate At Holy Cross; Five Honored

WORCESTER, June 8—Five honorary degrees were awarded today to distinguished Catholic clergymen and laity by Holy Cross College at the 94th annual commencement exercises of that institution.

At the same time, 255 students received the diploma of Bachelor of Arts and five the degree of Master of Science at the hands of Governor Hurley.

Honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon Very Rev. William J. McGarry, S. J., president of Boston College; Right Reverend Monsignor Francis W. Walsh, president of New Rochelle Colleg , New Rochelle, N. Y.; Very Rev. Robert I. Gannon, S. J., president of Fordham College, and William F. O'Neil, Akron, O., president of the General Tire and Rubber Company.

The honorary degree of doctor of letters was also conferred upon Richard A. Reid, Augusta, Ga., editor and publisher of the Bulletin, a well-known Catholic magazine.

William F. O'Neill, Jr., son of the Akron rubber magnate, was one of the students who received his baccalaureate degree at the exercises.

The graduates were urged by Governor Hurley, in his commencement address, to help "bridge the vast abyss between rich and poor in order to overcome the social and political troubles of today."

Justice Rugg B. C. Citation

The citation accompanying the award by Boston College of an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws to Chief Justice Arthur P. Rugg of the Supreme Court reads as follows:

"On Arthur Prentice Rugg, Chief Justice of Massachusetts, a jurist for unnumbered years, the recipient of the respect of his colleagues and the admiration of young men who seek honor and esteem as lawyers, for the soundness of views which alone can save the fabri of our nation, for the charity and vigor with which he has voiced the fundamental principles which guide man to serve the state and God well, and for the profoundly ethical and moral emphasis with which he has viewed problems affecting the individual, the family and the state."

Suffolk

President Gleason L. Archer of Suffolk University announced today that the Rev. Whitney Hale, rector of the Church of the Advent, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday afternoon in the university auditorium.

Annual commencement exercises of the university will be held in the auditoium Thursday, June 16. Professor Clyde O. Ruggles of Harvard University will give the graduation address.

Regis

Divorce increases and birth control were cited as examples of America's failing moral condition as the Rev. Ignatius W. Cox of Fordham University appealed to Regis College seniors to carry their religious standards from college into the world.

The Rt. Rev. Francis L. Phelan, S. T. L., chancellor of the archdiocese, gave diplomas to 61 graduates.

Simmons

Class reunions and alumnae dinners, leading up to an all-alumnae garden party Saturday afternoon, will feture the Simmons College commencement week-end.

Alumnae council members will be guests of Mrs. Bancroft Beatley, wife of the Simmons president, at a supper Friday night in her Belmont home.

Lowell Teachers

LOWELL, June 8 (AP)—Fifty-two bachelor of arts and education degrees were awarded today at State Teachers' College commencement exercises, at which Prof. W. Elmer Ekblaw of Clark University was the speaker.

Three were given three-year diplomas and three received degrees in music.

Clarke School

NORTHAMPTON, June 8 (AP)—Mrs. Grace C. Coolidge, widow of the late President, presided today at graduation exercises at the Clarke School for the Deaf. Six seniors and 12 members of the teacher education department were graduated.

Bay State Commencements:

Boston College Honors Many

College commencement exercises throughout Massachusetts today assumed colorful and impressive proportions as leaders in the field of religion, education and state government graced assembly halls and outdoor amphitheaters to participate in the annual distribution of diplomas.

At Boston College, William Cardinal O'Connell, in the presence of Governor Hurley and presidents and delegates from 54 leading institutions of learning in the East, conferred twelve honorary degrees on outstanding clergymen and laymen in the name of his alma mater and handed out 512 regular degrees to graduating students of the 1938 class.

DEGREE RECIPIENTS

Recipients of the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at the Heights were Chief Justice Arthur T. Rugg of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, Rt. Rev. Joseph B. Tracy, pastor of St. Columbkille's Church, Brighton; Rt. Rev. Joseph F. Coppinger, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Somerville; Rt. Rev. Joseph F. McGlinchey, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Lynn; Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty, pastor of St. Agnes' Church, Arlington.

Also Rev. Florence J. Halloran, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Wakefield; Rev. Charles A. Finn, former rector of St. John's Seminary and now pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Medford; Rev. Moses M. Coady, St. Francis' College, Antigonish, N. S.; Rev. Richard J. Quinlan, diocesan superintendent of schools; Rev. Richard J. Cushing, diocesan director of the Society of the Propagation of the Faith, and Charles N. Winship of Wakefield.

The degree of Doctor of Literature was awarded to Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., editor of America.

MILITARY ESCORT

The Boston College exercises, held at Alumni Field, marked the close of the celebration of the diamond jubilee.

Governor Hurley attended with a full military escort, the first time in the history of Massachusetts this honor has been recorded a college other than Harvard.

The address to the graduates by Rev. Raymond J. McInnis, S.J., professor of theology at Weston College, embodied a warning of the existence in America of "entrenched" opposition to the Catholic church.

"Make no mistake, Catholic young men," declared Father McInnis, "there is no need of evasion, no value in the whitewashing of facts.

"You are exempt from the European freakish and transient persecution of youth; you are not completely free from an atmosphere of suspicion and enmity that settles, like a cloud, on Catholic thought and Catholic effort in this country and in this generation.

"PREJUDICE ROOTED"

"Blatant criticism has ceased to be blatant, but where prejudice is fixedly rooted there is a silent condemnation, bitter and persistent. The opposition is entrenched in silence, but it is entrenched.

"You are privileged under God to possess the Catholic faith that will still breathe and influence and conquer when the ashes of Stalin and Hitler and all the false prophets of our day are forgotten as are the boasts of Alexander or the meuthings of Julian the Apostate."

Among the college presidents in attendance at the B. C. exercises were Karl T. Compton, M. I. T.; Hugh Potter Baker, Massachusetts State College; Rev. Francis J. Dolan, S. J., Holy Cross; Acting President George S. Miller, Tufts; Gleason L. Archer, Suffolk University; Francis Palmer Speare, Northeastern University, and Ada Louise Comstock, Radcliffe.

Safe Drivers

Balk Suicide

CHICAGO, June 8 (INS)—Albert McGrew read about all the people killed by automobiles. When he decided to commit suicide he thought of an automobile as the deadliest weapon possible. He threw himself in front of six cars, but the motorists stopped in each case before hitting him. Bruised only from the falls, McGrew was finally placed under mental observation.

'Bunny' Sohl's Trial Delayed

HACKENSACK, N. J., June 8 (AP)—Trial of Mrs. Ethel "Bunny" Sohl, Newark policeman's daughter, on charges of holding up two gas stations in Bergen County, was postponed today at request of her counsel. June 20 was set as the probable date.

Mrs. Sohl is serving a life term for the hold-up murder of a bus driver last December.

Sport Suit Clue to Drowned Woman

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Me., June 8—The gray sport suit worn by an unidentified woman found drowned here was en route to New London, Ct., today, in the hope of identification.

Report that the victim might be Mrs. Corrella Bond, of Buffalo, who disappeared from the Steamer Evangeline on May 16 proved unfounded when Medical Examiner George C. Gregory declared the woman had only been in the water a short time.

Woman 'Lure' Faces Quiz in Poet Slaying

WORCESTER, June 8—Thomas F. O'Connell, "love sonnet" writer may have stepped into a death trap that was inadvertently sprung by an attractive woman, police theorized today.

On this theory detectives announced they would question a woman with whom O'Connell is said to have made an appointment less than an hour before he was murdered.

The killers of O'Connell were hired to do no more than give him a beating as a warning to keep away from the girl, police believe, but his frail physique was unable to stand the powerful blows that were rained upon him.

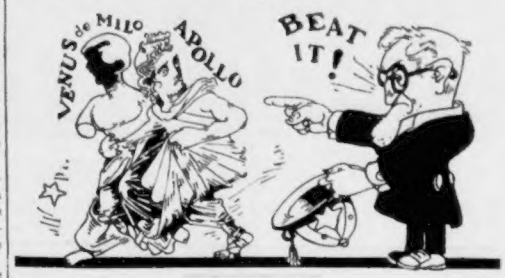
The two men believed to have been involved in the murder, police admitted, were still unknown to them, but they claimed to have witnesses who saw two men step out of an automobile and talk with O'Connell early Sunday morning.

One of the men had, in his right hand, what appeared to be a quart bottle, and after a brief conversation the three got into the automobile and that was the last seen of O'Connell alive.

HINT POST FOR BIDDLE

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—Francis Biddle, Philadelphia lawyer, is being considered for the position of counsel to the Tennessee Valley investigating committee.

For Shame, Venus! You, Too, Apollo



MARLBORO, June 8—With the lady having no arms, it was hardly hand-in-hand, but Venus and Apollo were driven in disgrace from the old homestead today after 50 years' occupancy.

And it's a darn good thing it's practically summer, because if there's one thing Venus and Apollo don't go in for it's what the well-dressed men and women are wearing.

NO QUALMS AT ALL

This—and a few other reasons—is why the two statues, which have adorned the Marlboro High school auditorium for more than half a century, have suddenly been found to be "indecent," even by some of the oldsters who viewed the figures in their own school days with no qualms at all.

Heeding many complaints, the school committe, on the motion of its lone woman member, Miss Edna Granitsas, voted to waive Venus and Apollo off the course and banish them forever.

VENUS WEARS MORE

From two staid, aging figures that never made a move toward harming anybody and whose only shortcoming was in the matter of garb, Venus and the boy friend have suddenly become sinister threats in Marlboro High school life through the complaints.

Venus wears the more clothing, being about 50 per cent draped, but Apollo is clad in the L street bathhouse mode.

So now Marlboro has two figures in search of a home as a result of the summary dispossess.

Norman Thomas Seeks Apology

NEWARK, N. J., June 8 (AP)—Socialist Leader Norman Thomas, routed from Military Park with an egg and vegetable bombardment Saturday, came back to Newark today to demand a formal apology from the city commission.

Accompanied by his wife and daughter, he went first to the office of his attorney, Arthur T. Vanderbilt, president of the American Bar Association. Then he walked the few blocks to city hall.

Alien Is Jailed In Welfare Theft

A non-citizen, who was charged with making more money on welfare and unemployment relief from the city of Revere than he had been from his former job in a Revere dye house, was sentenced to a total of 1 months in the House of Correction in Chelsea court today.

Emilio Yandoli, 36, of Revere, father of four children, pleaded not guilty to six counts of larceny, but was sentenced to three months on each one. He appealed and was held in $500. He admitted making $21 weekly from welfare and unemployment relief against $18 from his job.

THIRD BLAST VICTIM

FALL RIVER, June 8—Stephen Berner, 19, of New Haven, Conn., was dead today, third victim of an explosion three weeks ago aboard the tanker Elwood. Berner was burned when the blast fire spread to a large.

Timilty Unfit To Hold Office, Says Langone

Charging that four indictments for alleged conspiracy are still outstanding against Police Commissioner Joseph F. Timilty, State Senator Joseph A. Langone today characterized Timilty as unfit to hold office.

In a statement from the Senate floor Langone declared he would demand removal of Police Commissioner Timilty by Governor Hurley and the executive council.

ASKS REMOVAL

"We have in Boston an indicted police commissioner," the North End senator asserted. "He was indicted in a conspiracy to ruin business in this city.

"The attorney general's office, in the past four years, has not seen fit to bring to trial certain cases pending in Suffolk County, but I am going to ask that the police commissioner be removed.

"He has been indicted for conspiracy, and I want him to be removed for justice to rich as well as poor."

Timilty was one of [illegible] of police commissioners [illegible] when [illegible] was made to them by Mayor Mansfield [illegible] Mayor Curley appointed [illegible] Commissioner Timilty.

JUST REHASH

She was a witness at a legislative hearing.

When Langone concluded Timilty was [illegible] to [illegible] move to [illegible] said:

"I have served as police commissioner of Boston for two years. I believe I have been a success. The move of Senator Langone assures me that I have been a success. When I have men of the type of Langone against me I know I am on the right track."

Regarding the indictments, Timilty said:

"They have been hashed and rehashed over and over. They were brought up 15 years ago. They were part of a new experiment—like the NRA. There is nothing to them. That is why they were never tried."

Kidnap Fund Plea Pushed

WASHINGTON, June 8 (INS)—President Roosevelt rushed to Congress a special message asking an emergency appropriation today of $5,000 for the Green to meet expenses of the investigation into the kidnaping of five-year-old Jimmie Cash of Hurricane, Ky.

The President acted on the urgent plea of Attorney General Cummings who advised the White House the Federal Bureau of Investigation was seriously crippled by lack of funds.

In recommending the emergency appropriation, the committee reported a plea of J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau, for $15,000 to carry the search through June.

The committee never directs Hoover to [illegible] $5,000 from [illegible] funds [illegible] staff to [illegible] month.

No. 1 wedding. He will come to Massachusetts solely as a civilian which does away with the necessity for keeping political associates by confining with local party leaders.

It is desired by President Roosevelt that the high office he holds should in no way be allowed to dim the glory that should belong to Anne and John on their bridal day.

As plans are now, the presidential yacht Potomac will anchor off the shore of Nahant on the night of June 17.

Because it is not an official visit plans of the President as to debarking here and embarking for the return to Washington are being kept private.

His secret service detail will be with him, of course, and it is expected that he will greet Sen. Jack and the bride-to-be the night of the arrival.

6000 to Attend Church Service Of Scientists

More than 6000 delegates from all parts of the world to the annual meeting of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, will attend the weekly service at the Mother Church tonight.

In the original church auditorium 1200 Christian Scientists will gather for the service to be conducted by George Shaw Cook, associate editor of Christian Science publications.

Nearly 5000 delegates, some from such distant lands as Australia and India, are expected to fill the extension where Harry C. Browne of New York, new first reader of the church, will have charge.

Judge Samuel W. Greene of Chicago, who has served as first reader of the Mother Church, emphasized to delegates the important role played by newspapers in educating the public.

"Educating people in newspaper reading amounts to arousing them to think," said Judge Greene. "It has been said that 90 per cent of the education attained by people after the age of 11 comes through reading the newspapers."

Sex Offender Freed by Bishop

Warren S. Woodward 63 year old Lowell church deacon was freed today after District Attorney William L. Bishop had prosecuted a sex charge which had brought him a one-year sentence in Lowell district court.

"There are certain extenuating circumstances which justify this action," Bishop declared.

The prosecutor pointed out that the elderly defendant had no previous record and that a minister had promised to watch the defendant's future conduct.

Harlan Victim's Son on Stand

LONDON, Ky., June 8 (AP)—Sherman Clause, 18-year-old [illegible] son of Lowell Clause, slain United Mine Workers of America organizer, testified today he saw the pit boss fire eight bullets in his pistol the night he was killed.

And when he got the gun and took it home to his mother, the young witness told the Harlan labor conspiracy jury, there were still eight bullets in it.

The defense has been attempting to show that Clause shot the night of April 24, 1937, in front of a Verda, Ky., saloon, took part in the fatal [illegible]

Compromise on Pay-Hour Bill

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—A joint [illegible] committee compromised a wage-hour bill today, agreeing to a universal wage of 40 cents an hour in all interstate industries at the end of seven years, except where such a wage would cause unemployment.

The compromise would provide for a minimum of 25 cents an hour for the first year, to be advanced to 30 cents the next year.

After this boards appointed by an administrator would examine conditions in industries to determine the minimum wage for each.

The boards would be charged with increasing the minimum 5 to 10 cents as rapidly as possible.

Ocean Travel In New Spurt

This year, according to Douglas Malcolm of the American Express, because of delays in bookings and a tendency to leave decisions to the last moment, America is only now making its summer travel plans.

Most transatlantic steamship lines report that during the last three or four weeks there has been a decided spurt in demands for ocean accommodations.

Domestic travel is preparing for a record year. More tours than ever before are being offered for the West. The Great Northern Railroad reports heavy bookings for Alaskan cruises based on a special rail and steamship combination from all points on their route. To fill demands for Alaska, the Canadian National Steamships will operate 16 cruises to Alaska during July and August.

The National Parks will attract many this summer. "See America First" is a slogan being adopted by many New England vacationists. Many of these will travel by rail.

Short cruises will always be popular with vacationists from New England. Many this year are planned to fit the usual two weeks' vacation period. A short cruise combines a lot of fun with relaxation and with complete change. In the low price field, summer cruises have been arranged for under $75 to Bermuda by the Eastern Steamship (you can arrange all-expense rates from Boston) to Savannah by Lane to Savannah and Sea Island, the Merchants and Miners short cruising to Washington and Baltimore in the low price range which sail directly from Boston. The Fortnightly service from Boston of the Lady boats of the Canadian National Steamships is the first choice of many regular travelers of this route.

Cunard "Sea Breeze" cruises are planned this year to fit everyone's vacation plans. They are inexpensive and excellent with frequent sailings and a price range sure to fit into every budget.

Alpine Club to Climb Icefield in Alberta

MONTREAL, Que., June 8—The Alpine Club of Canada, 50 per cent of whose members are composed of Americans, will hold its first annual camp in the Canadian Rockies in the vicinity of Jasper National Park, Alberta, June 16 to 30, it was announced today.

The long saddle trip which has been necessary in the past has prevented this famous mountaineering club from holding any previous camp in the Canadian Rockies. This disadvantage has now been overcome by the completion of the new motor highway from Jasper to the foot of the Athabasca Glacier and for the first time in its twenty-two years, the Alpine Club of Canada will be able to reach its camp site without the use of pack trains and saddle horses.

Sea View Of Volcano

On her annual cruise around the world next winter the Cunard White Star liner will pass so near volcano activity in Italy between Etna and Stromboli the splendid spectacle will be viewed through the tropical darkness.

The crater forms the top of a low mountain about three miles inland from Port Resolution and the awe-inspiring effect of the molten mass is seen to its best advantage after dark, when the sky and sea for miles around are illuminated.

NEW SCENES, NEW CUSTOMS, NEW JOYS IN NOVA SCOTIA

Yarmouth is wholly of the sea, a town with a tang about it and a water-front centuries old. . . . At Lunenburg you'll see brave new ships a-building, while, at adjoining wharves, stout-masted veterans unload their silvery catch from the Grand Banks . . . . Halifax smacks of the old world in a new-world setting . . . Sydney, with its splendid harbor, Baddeck, couched amid golden lakes, Grand Pré, with its memories of Evangeline, and Annapolis Royal, storm-rocked cradle of Acadia's history — each of these, and many others, has an air all its own to intrigue you.

Begin this journey to unique Nova Scotia on an Eastern Steamship liner. The ship casts an added aura of adventure over the rest of the trip. It's also the most direct and most refreshing way to reach this picturesque sea province. Grand food. Cool, commodious staterooms.

The Iowa Tornado

The Editor Says:

The artist's imagination [illegible] an accurate portrayal of Iowa Senatorial primary [illegible].

Very much [illegible] the minds of [illegible] Democratic leaders [illegible] Administration [illegible], Representative O'Connor and Wearin.

As Senator Burke, the Nebraska Democrat, was observing, "THE BALLOTING WAS A CLEAR INDICATION THAT THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES DO NOT APPROVE OF POLITICS IN RELIEF."

The eyes of the nation were on Iowa. There, the New Deal had planned a personal conquest. Senator Gillette first became odious to the reactionary wing of the party that opposed the President's Supreme Court packing plan, was to get the imperial ax where heads are customarily worn.

Harry L. Hopkins, boss supreme of WPA billions and head priest of two-fisted politics, set the stage. He made it clear that if he were in Iowa voters stood and knew which side his slice of bread was buttered on he would try to defeat Democratic Gillette and do his level best to put New Deal Pet Wearin in his place.

James Roosevelt, son and secretary of the President, helped to sharpen the blade. From the White House, he announced "WEARIN IS MY FRIEND."

BUT THE AX SLIPPED. It did not fall on the Gillette neck. It fell on the Wearin neck. Iowa Democrats attended to that.

They made it powerfully clear to Mr. Hopkins, James Roosevelt and the entire New Deal that they resented vigorously the whole-hearted process of seducing voters into the destruction of their own representative republic with "free money," which they intend to pay back, on the sweat of their brows. They [illegible] the secret ballot an effective weapon to divorce the government spending of the past five years from politics. AND TO THEIR LIBERAL TING CREDIT, THEY USED THE WEAPON.

WE DO NOT PRAISE District Attorney Warren L. Bishop of Middlesex County for the leniency he shows the Lowell deacon, [illegible], who pleaded guilty to a sex charge involving a 12-year-old girl, and was received a sentence of 12 months in the House of Correction. We think very few persons will applaud the warning lesson of the deacon.

Mr. Bishop's excuse is that "there are certain extenuating circumstances which justify my action." He says the deacon's family has promised for him and promised to supervise his conduct hereafter.

Our suggestion is that Mr. Bishop rely less on the "friends" and reserve to do more himself. If the supervision fails and the deacon does not behave, the man really to blame will be Mr. Bishop.

FOR PEACE, not for war and aggression, seventeen thousand Boston High and Intermediate school cadets marched Tuesday.

We watched the four mile long khaki column tramp-tramp the main downtown streets. We were proud of these boys. We thought them an honor to their parents, to Boston and to the country they are trained to serve.

The Political Parade

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

WASHINGTON, June 8

EVERY New Deal cloud has a Republican silver lining. As deplorable as are many things which are happening in Washington as the once proud United States Senate sinks to such low ebb that you can smell the ooze, from the point of view of those who oppose Mr. Roosevelt's policies and his methods of accomplishing them, it must be conceded that his present course is the only one from which conservatism can hope to gain.

The principal things which he is doing which are destructive of the New Deal are three in number.

Mr. Roosevelt, through his inner White House circle is encouraging a political split in his own party.

He has permitted, if he has not inspired, partisan politics in relief.

He has within the past week extended his dictatorship over Congress to an extraordinary degree.

With regard to the last latter item, the President's suppression of the Congress has been [illegible] by Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky.

[illegible]

Nothing could be more [illegible] Mr. [illegible] than to have [illegible] in Democratic party [illegible] Democratic [illegible] in the Democratic primaries.

History goes to the bottom of a [illegible] party carrying an American [illegible]. The Whig split on slavery and the Democratic split in 1860 and the Republican party became a minor and [illegible] party. The Republicans split in 1912 and the Democrats came back after many years of wandering in the wilderness.

A Southern Democratic Senator surveying what the White House boys are doing in Democratic primaries, [illegible] said:

"Mr. Roosevelt appears to be determined to elect a lot of Republicans to Congress."

Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

SOMETIMES I think good husbands are the most appreciated people in the world. Women, who have them, have never tried any other kind, so they can't know.

Husbands, like steaks, might be divided into three groups: preferred, common and well done. Those who were born for matrimony, those who have successfully achieved the married state and those who have had it thrust upon them by fate or a woman.

The preferred type is a "born" husband. From his cradle he is marked for the altar and never escapes. Karma. He gravitates toward matrimony as the needle toward the magnet. He doesn't even put up a fight to stay free. He doesn't have to be remodeled or become adjusted, he simply locks up like a jack-knife into the domestic routine and STAYS PUT. He is just naturally a domestic animal who enjoys sitting by the fire curling up on the cushions of the divan, and being let in and out of doors at regular intervals.

Lucky the woman who draws him in the Matrimonial Sweepstakes! Even though she sometimes goes to her grave, never knowing how she has been [illegible] by Providence.

What of Today, Tomorrow?

Women Are Better, Declares Sociologist

In the Boston Evening American Monday, the Rev. Walter McGuinn, S. J., dean of the Boston College School of Social Work and a practical social service worker himself, discussed his experience in that field.

Today, the point of view of the woman in social service work is given by Miss Laura G. Woodberry, director of the Social Service Index since 1905.

By PAUL WHELTON

Boston Evening American Staff Writer

In the opinion of Miss Laura G. Woodberry, who has been director of the Social Service Index for three and a half decades, social service work is a field to which women are peculiarly adapted.

This is at variance with the view of the Rev. Walter McGuinn, School of Social Work dean at Boston College.

And in another view does Miss Woodberry differ with the Boston College worker. This is with regard to the education possessed by the person who enters the field of social service.

"IT IS OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE THAT SOCIAL SERVICE WORKERS, WHETHER EMPLOYED BY THE FEDERAL, STATE OR CITY GOVERNMENT, OR BY PRIVATE ORGANIZATIONS, BE COLLEGE BRED AND PROFESSIONALLY TRAINED IN THIS FIELD," said the Boston College dean.

But Miss Woodberry says [illegible] the educational [illegible]

"I DON'T THINK IT [illegible] A GOOD, [illegible] SOCIAL SERVICE WORKER TO BE A COLLEGE GRADUATE OR TO BE TRAINED IN SOCIAL [illegible] IT IS AN ADVANTAGE, OF COURSE.

[illegible]

Miss Woodberry

[illegible] and a cold[illegible] [illegible] but [illegible] a humane [illegible] for taking [illegible] the act of [illegible] standing and admiration [illegible] who have not been so fortunate or even so lucky as others.

"SOCIAL SERVICE IS A WORK TO WHICH WOMEN ARE PECULIARLY ADAPTED IN FACT I WOULD SAY THAT IT IS A WOMAN'S FIELD," says Miss Woodberry.

"Women mostly secretly want to start out to be the work-[illegible] ago as Lady Bountiful.

"In fact, social service work is now an art started as a [illegible]. And women have [illegible] to make it an art.

"In the earlier days men were not particularly interested in social service. They said in effect, 'Leave it to the ladies.' Well the ladies took it up and performed the work so well that they needed a success of it.

"I PERSONALLY THINK A WOMAN IS BETTER SUITED TO DO SOCIAL SERVICE WORK BECAUSE WHEN A WOMAN GOES INTO A HOME, ANY HOME, SHE SEES SO MANY THINGS THAT THE EYES OF A MAN DOES NOT CATCH.

"IT TAKES A WOMAN TO UNDERSTAND ANOTHER WOMAN, AND THE PROBLEMS OF THE FAMILY AND THE HOME USUALLY FALL ON THE WOMAN'S SHOULDERS, THEREFORE SHE FINDS A KINDRED UNDERSTANDING IN ANOTHER WOMAN.

"It can be carried out along this line much further.

"Women, on the whole, are better at winning confidence, and so a woman social worker is not [illegible] for client, [illegible] is [illegible] [illegible] investigating.

"[illegible] to sympathize [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] them [illegible] long [illegible] work.

"I DON'T MEAN I BELIEVE [illegible] MEN [illegible] [illegible] FAILS WITH A WOMAN THAN WITH A MAN SOCIAL WORKER.

"In [illegible] another man, one who [illegible] has had more [illegible] [illegible] the man in [illegible] [illegible] and forced to [illegible] for himself and has [illegible] a [illegible] humble in the light of his failure."

Nor is the society woman who gives of her time to aid her less fortunate brothers and sisters to be [illegible] highly in the thought that they are merely playing Lady Bountiful, in the opinion of Miss Woodberry.

"THE SOCIETY WOMAN WHO TAKES UP SOCIAL SERVICE WORK ACCOMPLISHES MUCH AS A GENERAL RULE," she asserts.

"I think that at the beginning [illegible] did social service work BECAUSE IT WAS THE THING TO DO.

"Today, however, I believe that the [illegible] actually REALIZE THE RESPONSIBILITY THEY HAVE UNDERTAKEN.

"In comparison with a few years back, social service work today is handled more truly and there is less relapse to contentment.

"SOCIAL SERVICE HAS BEEN EXTENDED AND IMPROVED SINCE THE COAL AND ICE DAYS AND WOMEN ARE MAINLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS CHANGE IN THE CHARACTER OF THE WORK.

"Today, social service gives healing mental treatment, as well as physical. But it still can go further. It isn't large enough yet in its scope.

"We have had a woman's world before. I think that we are swinging toward it today. And I think that social service will be one of the fields to lead toward that goal.

"Social service is not a science. It is not that cold-blooded. Instead it is an art.

"That is why women are particularly good in that field. They have the humane and understanding quality."

Girl About Town by Marguerite Downey

COLONEL CHARLES H. APTED, Harvard's ROTC officer, is one person who hates spring. From the first balmy breeze until the term's end he keeps his fingers crossed never knowing when the Harvard chargers may blow off the lid and stage a riot.

Marguerite Downey

Except the use of the term riot "Break It Up" as he is known more or less affectionately to the boys, refers to them as "FROLICS."

He claims they're as necessary to adolescent development as a slight case of measles or a mild siege of smallpox. Of course, Harvard Square mercenaries may have a different opinion but the Colonel's pretty staunch in his defense of his "problem children."

Most of the frolics have been staged in the spring. The worst came in '28 following a midnight movie at a local theater. Row-dies, not undergraduates, were the cause of it.

Apted's role is a combination of lawyer and father-confessor and has drag with the police when it comes to infringement of the law, plus an expectation of respect from the most recalcitrant undergraduate.

• • •

AN EXPLANATION of the colonel's title might not be amiss at this time. It all came about as a joke when the Crimson decided some recognition should be made of Apted's return of the sacred cod to its State House perch. The title of colonel was the accolade. Prior to that, he had attained the rank of major for his efforts in reducing Harvard scholastic standards to a point where Dan Yates, being named to his home eleven!

How usually "frolics" get started is about to happen. But because it can spell out the police-station-house-record-for-one, and in addition, he has an "army" of 25 that's comparable to any collegiate sheik, here's

Bunk Oratory -:- by Hugh S. Johnson

WASHINGTON. Graduating classes are leaving high schools and colleges in brigades, platoons and Army Corps this month. But before they go they have to sit sweating, fighting and cursing to get away to catch the first train home, being harangued mostly by smug old gentlemen who all wish them to be good and they will be happy and who tell them how to succeed in a haughty world.

General Johnson

This kind of ancient farce is now frequently being sandwiched with a new satire. Some speakers, especially those with a political motive, have been weeping over them—telling them what a God-forsaken country they are going into—how it got that way by the selfishness and dumbness of the speakers' political opponents—how it can be fixed up only by being taken apart and put together again by his political friends. A catchword of this kind of oratory is to tell these kids they are "the lost generation."

This year's college crop is going forth to pretty tough immediate pickings. Also, it is a true bill that ever since their predecessors got the country into the World War this country, as a natural heritage of succeeding generations of youth has been pretty badly bashed by all those who were doing the cooking from 1917 to 1938—twenty-one years. It is being bashed up still worse right now. But to call them a lost generation and to tell them

The Brighter Side -:- by Damon Runyon

SOME genius will one day invent something that will make the bombing of cities from the air impracticable.

We do not know what it will be. It is our conjecture that it may be an airplane that will stand motionless in air for an indefinite period.

Thus fleets of planes of this type could remain "anchored" high over the big cities in time of war and defend them from the air, as the battleships defend them from the sea.

Offhand you might say that it is wholly impossible to overcome the laws of gravity in the manner we suggest, but we have come to the conclusion that nothing is impossible. We came to that conclusion when they began making airplanes that would fly at all.

Damon Runyon

We can remember when we did not believe that could happen. We thought those airplane fellows were just wasting their time if not throwing away their very lives. As a matter of fact, we are still surprised every time we see a plane as big as a Pullman car skipping over the skyways.

Now those air chaps have got pretty close to making a plane stand still with the gyroscope, which can take off from a kitchen stove and land on a dime, so if some guy comes along and tells us he has devised a gadget that will hold still in the ether like a parked automobile we are not going to suspect his sanity. We are going to try to operate in on the patent.

THE BOMBING of civilian populations is the most frightful phase of modern warfare.

All civilized nations profess to deplore these bombings, and we are very sure that all civilized individuals hold them in abhorrence. It makes you sick at heart to think that men can become so completely inhuman as to kill little women and children and to destroy the property treasures of ages in this wanton manner.

Yet when any nation goes to war it seems to forget all its ideals and its sympathies and proceeds to wage war in the most dreadful manner possible.

We like to think that our armies never would bomb a civilian population. At this moment we do not believe they would. Still no man can accurately forecast what circumstances may arise in warfare. It has undeniably been deemed necessary in the past for our armies to wage some form of their wars more or less against the civilian populations supporting an enemy.

By ELSIE ROBINSON

IS CHIVALRY [illegible] IT IS FACT, TAKES THE COUNT [illegible]

Maybe you've heard [illegible] these Modern Men don't [illegible] give up their seats in [illegible] the Gentler Sex proper homage.

And if you're a male and [illegible] you've probably kissed [illegible]

Elsie Robinson

"Dear Elsie Robinson:

"I'm beginning to think that chivalry is really dead. It certainly seems so judging by the actions of some of the boys around my home. Here are a few cases.

"The first occurred in our school cafeteria. The high school was late getting down to lunch. I reached for the last salmon sandwich. A senior boy reached for it also. As we [illegible] of the plate one of us had to [illegible] I refused in silence and ate cheese, which I detest.

"The other incident occurred in [illegible] boy four years younger than myself. [illegible] nearby, he dropped his books on [illegible] and said 'Here, hold my books' and off he dashed.

"Some boys seem to think that [illegible] that girls prefer the kind of [illegible] don't know and never heard the word courtesy. Maybe there are [illegible] way, but I'm positive the majority [illegible] courteous that I've become so [illegible]

"DONA MARIE MELVIN, age 16
[illegible]"

THERE'S a place that will always [illegible] a fond [illegible] long since attained [illegible] And any female who does not instantly agree with [illegible] yet, come what may, I am [illegible]

I DO NOT BELIEVE IN CHIVALRY.

I DO NOT SEE WHY ANY [illegible] MAN SHOULD DEFER IT—

NOR WHY ANY MODERN GIRL SHOULD DESIRE IT.

AND, FROM CONSIDERABLE EVIDENCE, I'M CONVINCED THAT IT RAISES CAIN WITH ANY WOMAN WHO GETS IT.

At its best, Chivalry was never more than a lot of lame-o gestures. At no time did it convey the respect and admiration it was supposed to imply. If you want to know how Ye Lads really felt about Ye Lassies, When-Knighthood-Was-In-Flower did not cause the sonnets they wrote nor the jousts they fought nor the laws they scraped.

READ, RATHER, THE LAWS THEY WROTE INTO THEIR STATUTE BOOKS—WHEREIN LADIES WERE PLACED ON A PAR WITH THE FAMILY COW AND THE VILLAGE IDIOT.

'Tis true, girls, that they placed us on pedestals and gargled over our "lily white hands" in the days of Chivalry, but it is equally true that the same romantic gents reserved the right to "beat ye ladie wife with a stick no larger than ye male thumb . . . or to wal away her unborn babe . . . or indulge in other equally quaint practices.

THE TRUTH IS, CHIVALRY WAS A ROMANTIC COVER-UP FOR THE MOST UNFAIR, UNKIND AND ALL-ROUND-INSULTING RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE SEXES WHICH THE RACE HAS EVER KNOWN. THEY MAY HAVE SAID IT WITH ROSES - BUT THE NET RESULT WAS A KICK ON THE EAR.

And why any free, white, twenty-six modern gal should want to exchange her present freedom and opportunity for such bilious hooey and general meanness, beats me!

There's no more reason why a man should raise his hat to a woman, or move her chair, or open her door than why she should perform the same services for a man. We can't eat our Equality and have it both, Sisters! Either we're Big Ar Guns or we're Busted Blossoms. But we can't be both. And we'd better make our minds which we'll be. QUICK.

Mother Should Stand Up for Children Rudely Treated

STEPFATHERS have long been neglected in fable, but they can be a fact, as this story proves. Whether it is the mother or father who shows disfavor to the other's children, a strong ultimatum to act humanly and decently is in order.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

When I married my present husband I had four children by a previous marriage and he had two. We have four children of our own making six in all. All of my children are married, except one. But when they come to the house I treat them all alike. I never would think of treating them in the rudest way. On the contrary, when [illegible] I [illegible] to them as I [illegible]

My married child, a boy, was [illegible] and came to see me, and [illegible] behavior was so outrageous that I feel I could never [illegible] again.

Certainly a woman who does all her own work, keeps home well, and is a loyal and devoted wife should be able to receive her children in her own home. Don't you think so?

MISERABLE MOTHER

It [illegible] that every woman who has children should be able to [illegible] her own home [illegible] but [illegible] a step-mother I [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] own [illegible]

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL

Sulphur Lotion Soothes And Heals Blemishes

By ARLINE GOULD

IT MAY or may not be a matter of luck—but whenever something pretty important is about to come off in a gal's life, her complexion is apt to erupt like a Fourth of July roman candle.

When your concentration is terrific on looking and acting like a raving beauty, the blow supreme is a red blotch or pimple. Right through the year you're out for all the loveliness you can get—but the gay senesr of June, moon, and all that goes with them is the time when you should look your most radiant.

Whether it's the beginning of acne (you suspect) that is spoiling your complexion and your dreams, or whether it's a less serious but equally persistent blemish, it's more than likely than an easy way to clear up the matter is by the use of a sulphur lotion.

We've found an improved sulphur lotion quite new, which not only heals quickly but tends to remove the marks the imprints that pimples and blemishes leave. It's a clear liquid with what looks like a chartreuse-colored snowstorm, the kind captured in Victorian crystal paper weights until at the bottom. You shake it until the flaky yellow stuff is well mixed. With a pledget of cotton saturated in the lotion, soak the affected parts. Do this morning and night. Several days during the day is a treatment at [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] got to be [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Debs Share Honors At Twin Luncheons

By BETTY ALDEN

THE sports world hasn't any monopoly on double headers . . . Today, the first twin bow of the new deb season was made at The Brookline Country Club when Jane Bliss and Priscilla Brett shared honors at a debut luncheon . . .

The two girls, who were classmates at Miss May's School last winter, made an attractive pair as they stood in the receiving line . . Jane in a flax blue linen dress with a matching hat and Cilla in dubonnet linen with a white hat . . .

Their mothers, Mrs. Philip W. Bliss and Mrs. Chester S. Brett, of Brookline, received with them, the former wearing a summery gown of navy blue sheer and Mrs. Brett in dubonnet and white printed sheer.

Mrs. Derek A. Lee Constable-Brett has come on from New York for her sister's party and their cousin, Barbara Brett, was also among the guests enjoying luncheon at small tables in the club's spacious dining room.

Other guests included Judith Myers, Ann Millspaugh, Merrill Bunce, Nancy Nichols, Janet Pierce, Polly Harwood, Nancy McNeil, Mary Macomber and Leila Ernst, whom, we understand, is destined to be one of the darlings of the stag line at next autumn's dances . . .

Also lunching with her sister debs was Ruth Bement who, with Jane Bliss, will be a volunteer worker at Childrens Island during August . . . Before buckling down to charity work, however Jane who have a month of gay summer festivities at York Harbor, Maine, and Ruth will enter into the social activities at Wing's Neck, down on the Cape . . .

After taking college board exams for Smith Cilla Brett will join her family at Harwichport for the summer months . . .

Frances Williams Excels in Trio of Sports

In order to keep up with his future wife, Dr. John Forbes Perkins, Jr., must be an expert horseman, sailor and skier, for his fiancee, Frances Williams, excels at all three sports . . . She was a member of Katie Johnson Fisher's crew, which won the women's national sailing championships last September, rides with the Norfolk Hunt and there's scarcely a famous ski trail in the world she hasn't tried . . .

The couple's engagement has just been announced by Frances mother, Mrs. Ralph B. Williams, of Dover . . .

Elsa Maxwell Gives Opinion of Bostonians

Anyone curious about the famous Elsa Maxwell's views of Boston and Bostonians, will find some [illegible] on the subject in her article in the current issue of Town and Country in which she describes her recent visit here as a guest of Harvard Lampoon's May time supper party and festivities.

After a humorous account of how she was almost kidnapped at Back Bay station by the Crimson, the Lampoon's rival, she sums up the story by announcing:

"There's one thing sure, a coed's life is not for me. Gay collegiate doings on the campus may be all very well, but no more toying with little boys at a big 'noise' like Harvard. I looked forward to my jaunt to Cambridge, I thought, 'Now I'll get a rest in Boston, because Bostonian means something sedative and sound.' How was I to know that Bostonians are wilder than Texas Bronco-busters, more dangerous than Lucky Luciano. Gosh! have those Bostonians vitality!"

Danger of Rat Bite

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.

WHEN LITTLE was known about rat-bite fever it was a matter for the greatest concern that a disease so little known was such a prevalent disease. Today the situation is unchanged.

As the name indicates, the disease is caused by the bite of a rat. But it can be acquired in other ways. The bite of the white mouse, for example, may cause the same symptoms as rat-bite fever.

What appears to be the principal reservoir for the germs of rat-bite fever is the saliva of rats. Those are the animals most frequently found with the germs in their mouths.

At first the germs do not cause any pain or discomfort. The wound may heal and only become noticed when fever sets in. For the first week of the disease one may not suspect the source. Two weeks after the bite is acquired.

SIGNS OF DISEASE

When the place where you were bitten becomes inflamed, there is likely to be a sudden chill and fever. The fever may last a week but sometimes longer. Attacks of fever and chills may be repeated for several weeks.

It is well to be forewarned with the fact that treatment of a rat-bite should be immediately instituted by a surgeon and not by the patient himself. When symptoms appear indicating that the disease has been contracted, it is necessary to get the germs neutralized by injection into the blood stream. Then treatment can be given only by the physician.

There are as many rats in a community as there are human beings. The great menace to health. They are carriers of filth and disease. Every effort should be taken to destroy them and it is the responsibility of every community to do so.

'3 Comrades' New Film For State

"Three Comrades," MGM's film version of Erich Maria Remarque's novel with Robert Taylor, Franchot Tone and Robert Young in the title roles and Margaret Sullavan as the girl, begins today at Loew's State and Orpheum screens. On the same bill will be Columbia's "The Last Warrior" with Francis Lederer and Frances Drake.

Experiences of three modern comrades who face an uncertain future in a post-war world provide the plot for "Three Comrades."

Taylor, the youngest, falls in love with Miss Sullavan and the affair gives all three comrades a new interest in life.

Taylor and Miss Sullavan marry. While on their honeymoon, she becomes seriously ill and requires an immediate operation. Taylor, knowing of her precious necessity to raise the necessary funds but the young bride-to-be somehow before that young man can learn of such action.

The supporting cast includes Guy Kibbee, Lionel Atwill, Henry Hull, Charles Grapewin and Monty Woolley. Frank Borzage directed it. "Humoresque" and "Seventh Heaven" are other recent productions from this studio.

"Stand In Where Ye Have Been" with George Ellis and Grace Hayward and the Rex Cole Band, starring Ted Lewis, Wayne Morris and Lynn Bari, will be the stage attraction when Loew's State reopens tomorrow for a two-day visit.

Those of you who enjoyed Jerry Devine's "Is It Where Ye Been?" in the story of the fabulous Jed Prouty, the Jones family and the Lawrence Tibbett-Grace Moore-Gladys Swarthout-Lauritz Melchior-Ezio Pinza Metropolitan Opera Company.

Ogunquit Group To Produce Comedy

"Soubrette," new comedy by Jacques Deval, author of "Tovarich," will be presented by Walter Hartwig at the Ogunquit (Me.) Playhouse on August 27. "Soubrette" was especially written for Elsa Argal, star of the French motion picture, "Club des Femmes," who will appear in the Hartwig production.

Austen Lake Says

Humanitarianism; or Beauties of Poison Gas

A CURRENT BULLETIN FROM THE U. S. Army Chemical Warfare Division to its reserve officers contains the following statement, "The use of poison gas has been proved humanitarian in effect and enables one nation to inflict its will on another nation with a minimum of suffering and death."

Austen Lake

Now that's what one calls sporting.

The beneficent military chemists do not specify what type this lethal gas might be, or whether it is pleasantly perfumed with the odor of April blossoms or whether it might be nitrous oxide, that delightful whiff of oblivion which dentists call giggle-gas and which, in overdoses, is calculated to tickle a patient to death.

But the chances are that it will be no more of a boon to mankind than the various forms of mustard, chlorpicrin, phosgene, arsine, chlorine, lewisitite and lachrymatories, which melted the mucous membranes of the throat, lungs and ears, or swelled and blinded the eyes till they bulged like twin boiled eggs, searing the flesh, rasping the delicate respiratory tract and scalding the vital organs until sufferers pleaded for pistols wherewith to end their agonies.

Humanitarian huh? The gruesome statistics of the World War reveal that mustard gas alone put 1,100,000 on the casualty lists, of which 3 per cent died in two days and 85 per cent lasted until the 25th day. Those who were there recall how it was spread from cylinder nozzles or exploding shells like thick green serpents, writhing in the hollows and lingering for weeks on end, penetrating clothing and disintegrating tissues in a manner with a harrow of torture for days and weeks — was a life lasted. We saw it happen and know that of all the devices of international insanity lethal gas was the most fiendish, agonizing and [illegible]

HUMANITARIAN, HUH? THERE WAS A snowy night on the Aisne in the winter of 1917 when the Germans sprayed lachrymous gas on the wings of a northerly breeze, releasing it from rises around the St. Quentin cathedral. The shattered bulk of that shrine, now restored, loomed across what once were farm fields where grain had grown, and the plowman whistled at his work. On clear days the leafless skeletons of apple orchards and vineyards showed behind the lines, where vanished vintners once gathered their fruit for wives and children to tread out their purple juices with bare feet.

It was night and per[illegible] when the gas [illegible] eating [illegible] the stench. As one of a fifteen ambulance company at the time we handled but a comparatively few to the field hospitals then. But next morning, a dawn wind and the venomous fumes rose doubly [illegible] from the west. That day we carted back entire regiments [illegible] as they came, whose strings of men that clung to each other's hands, the eyes of their eyes pasted shut by mucous discharge and [illegible] Crowded five men to a motor lorry. They came with sightless eyes lifted, [illegible] and [illegible] groping and feeling for the ground with their feet. Humanitarianism!

NOTHING ROUSES SUCH POIGNANT MEMORIES in the minds of A. E. F. veterans as recollections of the hearse crescendo of American strombus horns or the clanging of empty shellcases by the French. Gas! Le Gas! And wherever the sound carried men fumbled with their flimsy canvas masks which turned human faces into hog snouts. Gas! And the men in the dugouts sweated helplessly, never knowing whether it was the dread phosgene, one part of which, mixed with a million parts of air was fatal, inducing convulsions which turned the features plum purple, stretched the lips back from the teeth in a hideous grin and killed 93 per cent of its victims in two days. Humanitarian!

Agawam Park Has Fine Racing | Steeplechase Winning Favor

By JACK CONWAY

AGAWAM PARK, Agawam, June 8—I agree with Sergeant Eddie Mack when he stands in front of the paddock, and tells horse players that Agawam Park is the Santa Anita of the Berkshires. Of course there are bettors who are more interested in winning mutuel tickets than they are in beauty when they attend a racing meeting, and they may have the right idea.

Mr. Boston

Still, if one is to wager money, and possibly lose it, I believe it is well to have the ceremony conducted amidst a picturesque setting with a side order of fresh air and sunshine.

There are folks who insist all they ever get when they visit a race track is fresh air, but that is better than the foul air they take in through their lungs when they make their wagers at horse rooms which are located in cellars and in lofts.

[illegible] has been dropped in among the Berkshires. It's setting is even more attractive than that at Rockingham, and the stands and [illegible] order of the paddock to modern.

In fact the original backers of Agawam pointed in some $1 [illegible] to build this place. They have stood taking 50 cents on the dollar, but there is much more than holders of mutuel tickets get when they guess the wrong horse.

Under the new financial setup, Dan Gatnett says Agawam will earn $50,000 a year. That is still considered a fair return, even at a race track.

Agawam Park was built by the late Jim Munroe, who was known to his friends as the "Little Giant." Jim was Lilly's five foot two, but I guess that earned as much knowledge as the Colossus of Rhodes.

But as sure as Agawam Park is the finest race track in the Berkshires, if it were located in Natick or Norwood it would earn, with $600 a year. But even in this little town, in the Berkshires, it is doing pretty well for itself.

Agawam Has Plenty of Horses

THERE HAVE more than 1000 thoroughbreds on the grounds and Racing secretary Ty Norcott is having a difficult [illegible] Trainers are [illegible] of horses, [illegible] to start their entries.

[illegible] is having Peter Bradley as starter, and [illegible] from the tense country of Maryland. He is one, [illegible] of every thoroughbred running in the Berkshires. [illegible] has had many personal contacts with [illegible] trainers.

Wesley Ward [illegible] to Agawam [illegible] to see [illegible].

Shea and Brennan took time out to send their greetings to Dave Wilson whom they knew and admired when he first started handicapping horses.

They have been following Dave's selections at Suffolk Downs and were particularly pleased when the former Maryland handicapper came up with six winners and two seconds on an eight race program.

Steeplechase Races Attract Society

[illegible] DAVE Long who has done such an excellent job in charge of the [illegible] department, made one of his best Horse [illegible] to the steeplechase races where are contacted [illegible] society.

"The steeplechase races give us a real swanky air," said the Colonel.

"And an opportunity to meet some of your old playmates from Newport," I said.

"Of course," answered the Colonel. "The best people attend these races. We lose money conducting steeplechase races, but we think that race tracks should occasionally be willing to go into the red to do something for the sport itself."

I [illegible] with the Colonel. Everyone [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] Massachusetts always [illegible] steeplechase [illegible].

[illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible].

When the [illegible] completed at Pat Cramer's estate in Brookline they attracted a [illegible] crowd. And also [illegible] their share of spills and [illegible].

No Long Post Parades or Post Delays

AGAWAM HAS done away with long post parades and with unnecessary delays at the post. Announcer Horace Wade isn't even permitted to say "hurry, hurry, hurry, and lay your mutuel tickets" as the horses near the post.

The management does not wish to emphasize the commercial end of racing. Not that Agawam isn't as anxious to get as large a mutuel handle as possible, but it does not believe the sport should be conducted with only an eye for the mutuel machines.

STARTER Ira Gregory gets his fields off flying. The public likes this system. The favorite, often carrying top weight, is not licked before he leaves the post.

Louis Takes Beating

German's Right Hand Invincible

BOSTON LARY N. J. June 8 (AP)—Ex-Champion James J. Braddock, who cut short his comeback campaign by the surprise knockout punch that Joe Louis exploded on the point of his chin in the second round of their bout last night at Yankee Stadium, June 22.

Braddock, from what Joe saw in the six rounds of sparring yesterday. The champion was pounded and rocked by two of the sparring [illegible] Jim Howell.

When Joe's handlers started to [illegible] for an exhibition bout Braddock did Louis and Howell after spending a couple of hours [illegible] Joe's right fist [illegible] Braddock more [illegible] punished.

"You'll see a different fighter by this time next week. He's not burning up any unnecessary energy, and when he gets ready he'll open up. He worked the same way for our fight, but there's no denying he had everything when the bell rang."

Schmeling's Mates Pay For Found

SPECTATOR N. Y. June 8 (AP)—It's difficult to stay in the pleasant spot for a day and not break out in a rash of predictions about Max Schmeling's visit to Joe Louis two weeks from tonight at the Yankee stadium.

The German quit cold [illegible] so [illegible] he'll stop the Negro chap [illegible] again. [illegible] was [illegible] and [illegible] was all those people [illegible] Louis $50 [illegible] to [illegible] fighter.

WONDER MAN

"You know, the funniest thing is nobody asks me if I'm afraid of Louis. That's all I heard for six weeks before the other fight are you afraid of Louis?' I took it good, too. Now I wonder how good Joe's taking it when you ask him if he's afraid of me."

If Primo Will Ever Talk--

Arrangements are being worked out to have Primo Carnera talk from Italy ... Texas A & M is getting the cream of this year's high school football talent from right under the noses of Rice and Texas U., which are about ready to holler "uncle"

WHAT NEXT NOW

$500.00 FOR KICKS!

Jesse Owens received 65 per cent of the $50,000 he received for exhibitions following the triple victory in the last Olympics and has lived by means of it to put him on easy "Street" for life.

Says Lefty O'Doul: "I've had some luck in my time, but when I was at my best I was never qualified to carry Joe DiMaggio's bats for him."

BEST BET—DUSKY DUCHESS, SIXTH

Dusky Duchess, primed and fit despite hard luck outs, looks like the class of the sixth race at Wonderland Park tonight and shapes up as the best bet on the card.

In the big eighth race feature, Wilful, which is undefeated this year, must be given top preference. Miss Lucky R., however, a rail running "pup" which has drawn the one hole, is very dangerous. She can take all if she hits the turn with the leaders.

FIRST RACE—FUTURITY

Boxing Results

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Lou Ambers, Herkimer, N. Y., 136, world lightweight champion, drew with Ralph Ariscuolo, 136½, in ten-round, non-title bout.

NEW YORK—Vincent Dell 'Orto, 129, Italy, defeated Paul Lee, 126, Indianapolis, eight rounds. Johnny Fernandez, 144½, New York, outpointed Jack Haggerty, 142, Worcester, Mass., six rounds.

BEARS, 9, YALE 3

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 8 (AP)—The touring U. of California ball club spent the afternoon here carving out a 9-3 triumph over the oft-beaten Yale nine to register its twelfth win of the eastern invasion.

Taunton Dog Entries

By MATTHEW KEANEY

FIRST RACE—FUTURITY

MY DUCHESS—NO LESS—MAIL PLANE

PP	Dog	Wt.	Owner	Odds
1	My Duchess	52	W. B. Hall	6-1
7	No Less	50	Forbe Spencer	5-1
2	Mail Plane	70	S. Stephenson	6-1
4	Carl C.	66	L. Kirkpatrick	8-1
5	Duke Jordan	68	Oscar Dahlberg	5-1
3	Blue Dawn	61	F. L. Brunto	8-1
6	Toro Away	59	Dan Sullivan	10-1
8	Stage Struck	60	G. Lippold, Jr.	10-1

With the inside posting, MY DUCHESS has a distinct advantage in that she can break fast. NO LESS has some creditable schootings. MAIL PLANE off Florida form, rate a money chance.

SECOND RACE—FUTURITY

HELEN O.—PATROL ESCORT—PORTICO

1	Helen O.	50	Cedar Pt. Kennel 3-1
6	Patrol Escort	66	M. T. Dubiel 4-1
9	Portico	58	M. J. Gavan 5-1
4	Jackie Nell	55	L. L. Smart 6-1
8	Joe Lark	66	S. Stephenson 7-1
7	Barrow Mahout	61	Homer Bagwell 8-1
3	Blue Comet	66	W. B. Hall 8-1
7	Connie Mark	65	John Highhouse 10-1

Cedar Point Kennel has some very sharp dogs, and the top one here belongs in that category. Schootings indicate fitness. PATROL ESCORT has the stamina to make it interesting for HELEN O. with PORTICO entitled to the nod.

THIRD RACE—5-16 MILE

LIQUID FIRE—MISS RHODE ISLAND—LOU ANN

2	Liquid Fire	55	Cedar Pt. Kennel 2-1
3	Miss Rhode Is'd	53	J. L. Ayotte 4-1
4	Lou Ann	54	Homer Bagwell 4-1
8	Sir Windson	63	W. Lee Bryant 5-1
9	White Tempest	60	Oscar Dahlberg 6-1
7	Gov'ment Pay	63	L. Kirkpatrick 6-1
5	Carhan's K'ress	61	W. B. Hall 8-1
1	Hy Word	52	E. Rhine 10-1

LIQUID FIRE has a world of early speed and figures to round the first turn on the head in. From that point on, it should be easy with MISS RHODE ISLAND the one to fear. LOU ANN for the balance.

FOURTH RACE—FUTURITY

TEXAS SIDEWINDER—WALLY S.—BRUISER

1	Texas Sidew'r	50	M. T. Dubiel 4-1
7	Wally S.	52	Homer Bagwell 4-1
2	Bruiser	64	Cedar Pt. Kennel 5-1
6	Joe Bo Mag	66	O. Dahlberg 6-1
2	Mutton Rey	66	O and B. Kennel 6-1
4	Gallant Mark	72	W. J. Gavan 8-1
5	Troy Actor	64	F. Spencer 8-1
3	Miss Delia	48	F. B. Stutz 10-1

FIFTH RACE—5-16 MILE

ODESSA GIRL—HAWKES CHOICE—BRANDY JOE

2	Odessa Girl	55	J. L. Ayotte 5-1
1	Hawkes Choice	63	R. Stephenson 6-1
3	Brandy Joe	62	Fred Fairrow 6-1
4	Scottie Glenn	54	Frank Lane 5-1
5	Bay Sally	62	L. Kirkpatrick 5-1
6	Evening Traffic	61	W. B. Hall 6-1
8	Eve	54	S. L. Smart 8-1
8	Kitcarney Mo'ey	65	M. J. Gavan 10-1

ODESSA GIRL has the class in this number but HAWKES CHOICE can make a race of it. If BRANDY JOE gets in running early, he must be reckoned with.

SIXTH RACE—FUTURITY

LADY BLONDELL—JACK RED RAN—DON LASH

8	Lady Blondell	62	M. C. Sparks 5-1
2	Jack Red Ran	63	Forbe Spencer 5-1
5	Don Lash	64	Oscar Dahlberg 5-1
4	Irish Glenn	54	Frank Lane 6-1
1	Ramona Breeze	60	G. Lippold, Jr. 6-1
6	Jim Glenn	2	John Highhouse 8-1
7	Tuff Puffie	62	L. Kirkpatrick 8-1
3	Red Mo	63	O and B Kennel 10-1

LADY BLONDELL has sufficient foot and class to score over this band, though JACK RED RAN indicates fitness in his schooling. DON LASH should land in the money.

SEVENTH RACE—5-16 MILE

HURRY BY—SNOWDIE—BEAVERSTEIN

4	Hurry By	60	Fred Street 4-1
6	Snowdie	51	Robert Bryant 5-1
1	Beaverstein	59	F. B. Stutz 5-1
2	Jack Landon	65	G. H. Rogers 6-1
5	Citizen's Slate	68	O and B. Kennel 6-1
8	Rumbler Mose	69	Homer Bagwell 8-1
7	Lucille Larry	50	G. Lippold, Jr. 8-1
3	Major	65	Paul Boone 10-1

HURRY BY had fine Florida form and seems to have retained it though SNOWDIE, which won on the opening night, will be hard to beat. BEAVERSTEIN may need a race.

EIGHTH RACE—FUTURITY

CUDDLE CARESS—RIP TERROR—BOOKMAKER

2	Cuddle Caress	57	C. A. Rhodes 5-1
3	Rip Terror	54	M. C. Sparks 6-1
6	Bookmaker	68	M. J. Gavan 5-1
4	Amy Ray	66	Paul Hoosi 5-1
5	Black Gander	56	G. Lippold, Jr. 6-1
1	Shaun Wee	68	N. Hall 8-1
7	Dusty Dan	66	O. Dahlberg 8-1
8	Flight Leader	61	G. R. Wehmed 10-1

CUDDLE CARESS is good enough to top this field from wire to wire with RIP TERROR strictly the one to beat. BOOKMAKER is racing into form and will be handy.

NINTH RACE—5-16 MILE

LADY HAS IT—SMASHING PORTHOS—BIG FRANK

1	Lady Has It	55	W. Lee Bryant 6-1
4	Smash. Portlios	64	R. Stephenson 5-1
5	Big Frank	57	Robert Bryant 5-1
6	Schoolgoer	67	John Highhouse 8-1
2	Scarred Lady	72	O and B Kennel 7-1
3	Squarehead	63	W. B. Hall 8-1
7	Mister E. S. T.	66	Cedar Pt. Kennel 8-1
8	Stage Love	52	G. Lippold, Jr. 10-1

Off its last race, the top one here is strictly the dog to beat with the fast moving SMASHING PORTHOS the main danger. If BIG FRANK doesn't race greatly, he might upset it all.

TENTH RACE—5-16 MILE

DUSTY WAR—RITZY ANDREW—CHARLOTTE CARESS

2	Dusty War	60	Fred Street 5-1
3	Ritzy Andrew	68	Pat Conway 5-1
8	Charlotte Car'ss	55	C. A. Rhodes 6-1
4	Inez	57	Paul Hoosi 6-1
1	Kitty Horsham	60	Forbe Spencer 8-1
6	Jessie Betsey	54	G. Lippold, Jr. 8-1
7	Top Traffic	57	Frank Lane 8-1
5	Good Risk	74	G. H. Rogers 10-1

FRED STREET, a Taunton businessman, seems to have a fair sort of hound in this one and should record his second win of the meeting. RITZY ANDREW will "cover the construction with CHARLOTTE CARESS entitled to some consideration.

HOW DOES YOUR WHISKEY COMPARE TODAY, MR. KESSLER, WITH THE WHISKEY YOU MADE 30-40 OR 50 YEARS AGO?
I'VE BEEN AT IT FOR 60 YEARS — KESSLER'S PRIVATE BLEND TODAY IS THE FINEST TASTING WHISKEY I'VE EVER MADE

"Best I Ever Made in 60 Years!"

America's greatest authority on whiskey today is... Julius Kessler. Back in the 1870's, Mr. Kessler began his amazing career—delivering his whiskey by mule-pack over the mountains from Denver to Leadville, Colorado. Many years later he rose to greatest fame as "America's Whiskey King."

Though Mr. Kessler has made and sold over a billion gallons of whiskey in his lifetime, his KESSLER'S PRIVATE BLEND is today the smoothest, finest tasting whiskey of his entire career.

Try a pint! Get on the blend wagon—with Kessler's, the lighter whiskey with the velvet taste. At bars . . . or package stores.

"Get on the Blend Wagon" with KESSLER'S

THE LIGHTER WHISKEY WITH THE VELVET TASTE

Diz Dean

May Go Today

CHICAGO, June 8 (INS)—With the league lead at stake Manager Charles Grimm of the Chicago Cubs may use the once-great Dizzy Dean as a relief pitcher in the current series with the New York Giants, it appeared today as the Bugal Call, a double-header this afternoon.

Diz was ordered to warm up his quarter-of-a-million dollar arm three different times Tuesday when it looked like big Bill Lee might get into trouble. Dean was not called on, however, as the Cubs managed to carve out a 4 to 2 victory.

WHAT A PITCHER

RATON, N. M., June 8 (AP)—A fielder's job on the Cimarron Broncs baseball nine is a soft snap when Jess Short is on the mound. Short has struck out 60 batters in 30 innings of Northern New Mexico League ball this year, whiffing 23 in one game and 21 in another.

War Admiral's Stable Seeks Suffolk Stalls

"Eugene Bury,
"Racing Secretary,
"Suffolk Downs, Boston.

"Can you accommodate me with 15 stalls for Glen Riddle horses, also quarters for men?
(Signed) "GEORGE CONWAY."

The above telegram received this morning by Racing Secretary Eugene Bury from George Conway, trainer of the Glen Riddle Stables, indicates that the "Mighty Atom," War Admiral, will soon arrive at Suffolk Downs, together with a dozen or more other horses from the famous Riddle Farms.

Since C. S. Howard has stated in several telephone conversations that his string will also soon be here, it becomes more likely each day that Suffolk Downs will see Sea Biscuit and War Admiral, as well as all of the other leading thoroughbreds, in action during the running of the Massachusetts handicap, the $50,000 added race on June 29.

Leading turf writers from all parts of the nation are coming to Boston for this big race and will have an opportunity while here of attending the annual dinner of the New England Turf Writers Association to be held in the Suffolk Downs clubhouse the night of June 29.

Schultz Tests Paddy O'Day

Adolph Shultz, the Nazi grappler, meets a newcomer from Ireland, Paddy O'Day, tonight at the Boston Arena. This will mark the debut of the Irishman in this city. Not having lost a bout in his career, the German will meet his Waterloo tonight if Paddy lives up to the advance publicity regarding his ability.

The piece de resistance tonight will bring together Sandy McDonald, light heavyweight champion, and Ted Germaine.

Two colorful college boys meet in a special bout—Dick Turner, intercollegiate star, vs. Mickie Travers of Columbia University. In other bouts Tony Papalino of Italy meets Larry Astor, Cornell; Pasho, the Mad Turk, meets Buster Jones, while Doc Kelly will meet Hall Dusek. One other bout will complete the card.

$1000 in Prizes In Golf Tourney

Through C. Campbell Patterson, secretary-treasurer of the M. G. A., Alexander Ellis, chairman of the golf committee at the Oyster Harbors Club, announced that there will be $1000 in prize money for the boys to shoot at during the Massachusetts open championship June 27 and 28.

The Oyster Harbors Club will be the site of the state open for the second consecutive year.

AMERICAN BEATS GLOBE

Nick Wall Riding Long Shots

By the Associated Press

The Brooklyn Handicap, a mile and an eighth test scheduled June 25 at Aqueduct, may turn out to be the best race of the year.

All of the top notch older horses are eligible, including War Admiral, Pompoon, Snark and Stagehand. How many start will depend on the weight assignments. They are due to be released about eight days before the stake.

War Admiral, winner of the Queens County Handicap Monday, probably will receive top weight with Pompoon and Snark, the pair that battled in the Suburban with the latter winning, next in line.

Pasteurized, conqueror of Dauber in the Belmont stakes, has at last hit his winning stride in the opinion of his trainer, George Odom. Odom said the son of Milkman never would race to his works during the winter, but since early spring has been gradually improving.

Although an invitation has been extended for the colt to race in the $50,000 "championship" stake at the New Inglewood, Cal., track, he is likely to remain in the East, making his next start in the Dwyer at Aqueduct, June 18.

Nick Wall is getting himself something of a reputation as a long shot rider. After scoring with the 50 to 1 shot, Asianna, Monday, Nick came back yesterday at Aqueduct to win with Tall Princess, which opened at 30 to 1 and closed at 15 to 1.

Sammy Renick, regarded by horsemen as one of the best riders of two-year-olds in the country, has signed to ride for John Hay Whitney for the remainder of the season.

Boston Sound is a heavily campaigned horse, but he still is able to win his share of races for C. E. Davison. He faced the barrier 41 times last year and has been out 15 times this season for a record of three firsts, two seconds and a third. He scored his third victory in a six-furlong dash at Lincoln Fields yesterday, paying $11.80 for $2.

Bootless' string of victories must be good news for E. R. Bradley, who is recovering from illness at a Garden City, N. Y., hotel. After showing poor form to start the year, the five-year-old son of Black Toney has chalked up three straight victories at Suffolk Downs, gaining his third yeeterday in a photo decision with Mrs. Emil Denemark's Genie Palatine to pay $3.60 straight.

Sports Mirror

Today a Year Ago — Chicago White Sox tied Yankees for American League lead with a 5-4 victory over world champions for tenth straight triumph.

Three Years Ago — Sam Parks, Jr., 26-year-old Pittsburgh pro, won U. S. open golf championship with 299, defeating Jimmy Thomson by two strokes.

Five Years Ago — Max Baer stopped Max Schmeling in tenth round of 15-rounder before 53,000 in Yankee Stadium.

Kreevich Lands Safe

Catcher Jorgens of the New York Yankees makes a wild but vain stab to nab Mike Kreevich, White Sox outfielder, as he slid across the plate in the fifth inning. He scored on Luke Sewell's sacrifice fly.

Armstrong Cinch; Ambers Looks Bad

LOS ANGELES, June 8 (AP)—Baby Arizmendi upset many an apple from the cart last night when he battled Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers to a draw here in a wild 10-round non-title fight.

Today the bellicose baby, veteran of a thousand and one nights in a prize ring, came out flatly and predicted that welterweight champion Henry Armstrong would knock Ambers out when they meet in New York, July 26.

PICKS HENRY

Arizmendi should be an authority on the subject. Two months ago he took a beating—but never a knockdown—from Armstrong in a vicious 10-rounder at the Olympic.

"Armstrong is stronger than Lou and throws too many punches. Ambers is easy to hit. I staggered him and while I took my best shots at Henry, I couldn't phease him," Arizmendi declared.

Ambere, a three to one favorite over the Baby, said after the fight that he felt sluggish and couldn't get started.

"I hope to do better against Armstrong," he said.

After eight rounds of fighting with seldom a let-up, Referee Jack Kennedy, who has a custom of giving the round count at that stage, tolled off four rounds for Ambers, three for Arizmendi and one even.

FAST FINISH

Arizmendi tore into the champ in the ninth and carried on as they fought after the bell. Again, in the 10th, he was crowding the weaving, hooking New Yorker when h suddenly pulled up with the left side of his face covered with blood. He claimed Ambers had butted him and the bout was halted momentarily for examination.

The consensus of ringsiders, coinciding with the Associated Press score sheet, favored Ambers by a shade. By round count, the Associated Press had it five, four and one for the champion. Ambers scaled 136, Arizmendi 136½.

McCarthy

Denies He Wants Newsom

NEW YORK, June 8 (INS)—Although Joe McCarthy denied any attempts have been made to obtain Buck Newsom, right-handed pitcher of the St. Louis Browns, the Yanks today were continuing their efforts to land an outstanding hurler before the trading ban goes into effect on June 15.

The prospects of a trade, however, are felt to be slight, because of the general backwardness of the rest of the league to do business with the Yanks, a two-time world's champion.

'Ism' Hearing Bares Plot, Shock Troops

Testimony that "shock troops" are for hire in Massachusetts and that plots exist to overthrow state and federal government marked today's opening session of legislative hearings, called to push the Commonwealth's drive against Communism and other subversive influences.

Action of 50 Greater Boston educators and ministers in criticizing the report of "Red" probers here was branded as "ludicrous" by State Senator Sybil H. Holmes of Brookline.

State troopers in uniform guarded Gardner Auditorium, where witnesses were called before the joint legislative committee on legal affairs, and police reserves were on call.

The hearing was public and interested factions, including Communists, jammed the auditorium as Senator Holmes took the stand.

She charged that an independently organized, semi-military Springfield group, bearing arms and even drilling on a police target range, offers its services for hire, in Massachusetts.

Such groups are of a "dangerous type," she said, and would be abolished by statutes recommended by the special commission which under her chairmanship has been probing Communist, Nazi and other subversive activities within the Commonwealth.

Protest of ministers and educators, including Harvard and Wellesley faculty members, against her commission's report drew

Race Man Called in Revere Quiz

With appearance of a surprise witness also awaited, the "blue ribbon" grand jury probing Revere rackets and racketeers today heard three witnesses.

The surprise witness is described as a man who was connected with a national race news gathering agency and who allegedly employed the late David J. (Beano) Breen, slain gambler, as personal bodyguard.

Archie Engle, declared by Attorney-General Paul A. Dever's investigators to have been treasurer of the Ruby Associates at Revere, closed 15 months ago in a state police raid, was the first witness today.

It was Engle's third appearance before the "blue ribbon" probers.

Following him into the grand jury room was Ernest O'Brien, brother of William O'Brien, Jr., who formerly was associated, the investigators said, with the murdered Louis Gaeta in the Mal Nor cafe in Revere.

A third witness today was

Rod Spared, Boys Sent To Shirley

PICTURE ON PAGE 12

FITCHBURG, June 8—Back to Judge Thomas F. Gallagher today went the fathers of Harold J. Woodworth, 16, and William Allen, 15, to announce defiantly they would not horsewhip their sons as ordered, so the judge sent them to Shirley Industrial School for an indefinite term.

The boys, who cut the signal wires of the Boston & Maine near here, appealed and they were held in $300 bail each.

"Why did you not follow my orders?" asked Judge Gallagher of one father, Joseph Allen.

"Because I do not believe in that method," he said.

Youth Mixing Paint Burned

Everett Budd, 28, of Margaret street, Arlington, was burned on the face and neck today when paint burst into flame in a paint and wallpaper shop in Massachusetts avenue, Arlington.

The employe, who had been mixing paint, groped through smoke to the street. A motorist took him to Symmes Arlington Hospital.

Mrs. Elizabeth Weston of Cambridge, working in the store, made her way to safety.

Market Idles In Narrow Range

NEW YORK, June 8 (INS)—The stock market moved quietly today in an extremely narrow price range. Some encouragement was found in growing signs of a revival in capital markets.
